Preface

Since 1911, the people of Sri Lanka had been in the practice of exercising their democratic rights by electing their representatives to elected bodies for more than a century. Today, the citizens of Sri Lanka practice this "Representative Democracy" through Presidential, Parliamentary, Provincial Councils and Local Authority elections. The system of electing representatives to the various representative bodies, their administrative structures, procedures to conduct elections and the powers of the Election Commission and elected bodies are built into the 1978 Constitution and related amendments.

The Provincial Council System in Sri Lanka was introduced by the 13th Amendment to the Constitution and the Provincial Councils Act No. 42 of 1987. Under this Act, 9 Provincial Councils were established in the country, namely, Western, Central, Southern, Northern, Eastern, North Western, North Central, Uva and Sabaragamuwa. Provincial Council members were thereafter elected using the principle of "Representative Democracy" and adopting a 'Proportional Representation' election system based on the administrative districts of each province as the constituents to conduct the elections. In this system, 437 provincial council members were to be elected from 25 constituents (administrative districts) to the 9 Provincial Councils. In addition, 2 members were added through 2 bonus seats given to the party or the independent group that obtained the highest number of votes at provincial level to form the Provincial Governments until the year 2017.

The Provincial Councils Elections (Amendment) Act No. 17 of 2017 provided for a new, mixed (First-Past-the Post/Simple Majority and Proportional Representative) system of elections, where 50% of the members for an administrative district should be elected through electorates under the simple majority system and another 50% of the members through the district level proportional representative (additional list of members) system. Under the relevant Acts, HE, the President, appointed a Delimitation Committee on 04.10.2017 comprising 05 members, with a mandate to delimit such electorates and submit its report within a period of four months from its date of appointment. The Committee was provided its legal mandate in Section 3 A (1) to 3 A (11) of the Provincial Councils Elections Act No. 2 of 1988 as amended by the Provincial Councils Elections (Amendment) Act No. 17 of 2017.

The Delimitation Committee called for written submissions from interested political parties, public organisations and the general public and held public hearings in 25 districts. The Committee received 678 responses (both written and verbal) from the public for consideration in the discharge of its mandate. The committee discussed and incorporated the submissions that were relevant to its mandate to demarcate 222 Provincial Councils electorates within 25 administrative districts to elect 50% of the members based on the simple majority system to the 9 provincial councils. This Report is the outcome of that exercise.

The Report comprises 2 volumes. Volume 1 contains 4 Parts. Part I, The Delimitation Process, contains chapters 1 and 2. Part II, The Demarcation of Electorates, contains Chapters 3 to 11. Part III, Boundary Schedule of Electorates, contains chapter 12, Part IV, Future Consideration and Acknowledgements contains chapters 13 & 14 and 11 Appendices. Volume II comprises Maps of the 25 districts, showing the boundaries of each electorate in that district and is published as a separate publication.

Chapter 1 is the Introduction. It describes the appointment of the Delimitation Committee, the laws pertaining to Delimitation of Provincial Council electorates, the scope of the Committee, the procedures followed, criteria used for demarcation of electorates and an analysis of the submissions and proposals made to the Committee.

Chapter 2 is a General Review of the electoral system in Sri Lanka, including a brief history of the decentralisation of powers to the provinces. Procedures, from the establishment of Provincial Councils up to the election of members under the present system, are described in this chapter.

Chapters 3 to 11 describe the delimitation of electorates in each district within a province that was undertaken by the Committee. These chapters comprise one for each province. Each chapter provides basic geographic, demographic and socio-economic information about the province and its districts. The chapters contain district-wise analysis of the submissions and proposals, both verbal and written, made by various stakeholders on delimitation of provincial council electoral boundaries and the factors considered by the Committee in their delimiting of administrative districts into electorates. The numbers, names, population breakdowns and constituent parts of each electorate within a district are summarised in the relevant chapters pertaining to each province.

Chapter 12 provides a detailed schedule of the boundaries of all 222 electorates in 25 districts within 9 provinces that were demarcated by the Committee for the purpose of Provincial Council Elections.

Chapter 13 discusses key issues highlighted by the stakeholders, including representation of minorities, multimember electorates for multi-communities, socio-economic considerations in the delimitation of electorates, naming of electorates and adequacy of the number of members, and the Committee's responses to and observations on the same.

Chapter 14 acknowledges, with respect and gratitude, the numerous institutions and individuals who supported this endeavour, without whose varied expertise and ready assistance, this task could not have been completed within the given time frame.

Appendices A and B provide the Constituent GramaNiladhari Divisions of each electorate and the names and numbers assigned to all 14,021 GramaNiladhari Divisions in Sri Lanka, respectively.

Appendices I to IX provide a record of the documents relating to the appointment of the Delimitation Committee, the legal provisions relating to the responsibilities of the Delimitation Committee, the newspaper notices and press releases issued by the Delimitation Committee in the discharge of its responsibilities, the names of political parties, civil organisations and individuals who made written representations, the names of political parties, civil organizations and individuals who made written and verbal representations at the district level public hearings, the data utilised by the Delimitation Committee and a photo gallery.

Part I Delimitation Process

Chapter 1 Introduction

Appointment

The Provincial Councils Elections Act No.2 of 1988 (Principal Act) was enacted to make provisions for the procedure of election of members to nine Provincial Councils and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto in accordance with the legal provisions made in the Constitution of the Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka. The Act was attested on 27.01.1988 and was effected from 02.02.1988. Members were elected under the proportional representative system from the administrative districts in the provinces identified as electoral areas. The Provincial Councils Elections (Amendment) Act No.17 of 2017 (Amendment Act 2017) provided for a new mixed system of elections with fifty percent of the members for an administrative district to be elected under the proportional representative system and the balance number of members to be elected on simple majority system.

02. In terms of Section 3 A (1) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, the President appointed a Delimitation Committee on 04.10.2017, comprising of the following members to demarcate electorates in each administrative district in order to enable the election of 50% of members from the districts on simple majority system to the Provincial Council. The Committee is constituted to include the Chairman and the two members of the Delimitation Commission appointed in terms of the Nineteenth Amendment to the Constitution. The notice relevant to these appointments was published in Gazette No. 2039/29 of 04.10.2017.

The Law Pertaining to Delimitation

- 07. The powers vested and responsibilities cast upon the Delimitation Committee can be described in terms of Section 3A (1) to 3A (11) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017 and the appointment letters issued by HE, the President, in the following manner.
  - i. In terms of Section 3 of the Provincial Councils Elections (Amendment) Act No.5 of 2004, the Commissioner of Elections has determined the number of members to be elected from each district for the Provincial Council and the major role of the Delimitation Committee was to demarcate the electorates taking the contents in Section 3A (4) of the Principal Act to elect 50% of members so determined. This has vested the Committee with an added responsibility of determining the number of the 50% of members. Section 3A (4) of the Act and other major contents therein that the Committee has to pay attention to are appended below.
- "(4) In the division of administrative district into electorates, the following factors shall be taken into consideration by the Committee:—
  - (a) where it appears to the Committee that, there is, in any area of an administrative district, a substantial concentration of persons united by a community of interest, whether racial, religious or otherwise, but differing in one or more of these respects from the majority of the inhabitants of that area, the Committee may make such division of the administrative districts into electorates;
  - (b) in making such division, the Committee shall have due regard to—
  - (i) the desirability of reducing to the minimum the disproportion in the number of persons resident in the several electorates of the administrative districts within the Province; and

- (ii) the geographical and physical features of the electorates."
- ii. If the Committee is of the view that electorates should be demarcated to elect more than one member for a particular district, taking the requirements stipulated in Sub Section 3A (4) of the Principal Act, the Committee shall demarcate multiple constituencies.
- iii. It is the responsibility of the Committee to allocate a number and a name to every electorate when a district is divided and the number of members to be elected from each electorate.
- iv. The Committee is empowered to adopt the procedures and appoint officers, experts, technical committees and sub committees required to be followed in the performance of its duty.
- v. The Committee should hand over the report on delimitation of electorates to the Minister in charge of Local Government and Provincial Councils within a period of 4 months from the date of its appointment.
- 08. The report of the Committee will be tabled in Parliament within 2 weeks after submitting it to the Minister in order to obtain 2/3 majority in Parliament. In case the Parliament does not approve the tabled report the Hon. Speaker appoints a Review Committee, under sub Sections 4(12) to 4(14) of the Amendment Act 2017, chaired by the Hon. Prime Minister to review the serial numbers of electorates, their names and boundaries.
- 09. The Review Committee appointed by the Speaker should consist of five members headed by the Prime Minister. According to the law, the report of the Committee should be submitted to the President in two months.
- 10. Immediately after the report of the Review Committee the President should publish the names and the boundaries of the electorates.
- 11. The Chairman of the Election Commission has informed the Chairman of the Delimitation Commission by his letter LAE/ඉහාදු dated 06.10.2017 of the number of members for each administrative district determined by him according to the previous Census of Population and Housing 2012 (CPH 2012) on the basis indicated in sub section 3 (3) of the Provincial Councils Elections Act as amended by the Provincial Councils Elections (Amendment) Act No.5 of 2004. The number of members for each district is given in Table1.1.

Scope of the Committee

- 12. Electorates have to be demarcated in the administrative districts according to the population numbers on the basis of the CPH 2012 in order to elect half of the number of members from each administrative district. Therefore, it would always be possible to demonstrate differences in the population number in one electorate of an administrative district and an electorate of another administrative district. The Committee is unable to eliminate such a situation.
- 13. There are several categories of administrative units within the extents of land belonging to all administrative districts, viz Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs), Divisional Secretariats (DSs), etc. Delimitation had to be carried out taking their boundaries into careful consideration because the areas of authority in such units are legally established, mapped and the Census is conducted based on those boundaries. In the circumstances, the Committee did not have any authority to balance the population numbers in the electorates outside those boundaries.
- 14. The Committee took swift action to demarcate electorates suitably to elect 222 members out of a total number of 437 members for the 9 Provincial Councils from the 25 administrative districts.

Procedure

- 15. The inaugural meeting of the Delimitation Committee was chaired by the Chairman on 09.10.2017 with the participation of all members at the office of the Committee. All the work steps and time lines for the finalisation of the procedures, determination of the number of members to be returned for each administrative district under the amended Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act, methodology for collecting proposals, educating the relevant stakeholders about the delimitation process, studying the proposals to be received, arriving at final decisions on demarcation and the preparation of the final report on delimitation were determined at the initial meetings.
- 16. It was decided to establish a Sub committee under the chairmanship of the Government Agent/District Secretary of each district with the Senior Superintendent of Surveys of each district and the Deputy/Assistant Commissioner of Elections of each district as the other members.
- 17. A paper notice on the delimitation procedure was published on 13.10.2017 for the information of political parties, civil organizations and the public inviting proposals for delimitation before 02.11.2017. In addition, the Members of Parliament, Secretaries of recognized political parties and members of Provincial Councils were also invited to forward their proposals.

18. One public hearing for each district was conducted at each District Secretariat during the period from 09.11.2017 to 08.12.2017 to obtain the views of and proposals from the public.

Criteria for Demarcation of Electorates

19. Criteria for Demarcation of Electorates Adopted by the Delimitation Committee

The procedure for delimitation that should be followed by the Committee is clearly elaborated in Section 3A (1) to 3A (11) of the Principal Act, as amended by the Amendment Act 2017. In this exercise, the Committee was required to reach consensus and ensure consistency in its deliberations and decisions with respect to the delimitation of all electorates. Accordingly, the Committee agreed upon the following consistent criteria with which to study the submissions and proposals received from the populace and make its decisions:

i. Section 3A(2): Determination of number equal to 50% of members to be elected under electorates

The Commissioner of Elections determined the number of members to be elected from each district to the Provincial Council taking the last Census, CPH 2012, and the extents of lands in administrative districts in to consideration. The Committee had to decide upon the 50% number of members to be elected on the basis of electorates from each district. To calculate such number, the number of members to be elected from each administrative district was divided by two. The numbers of members so calculated, for 18 districts out of 25, were integers. In the balance 7 districts, when the number was an integer and a fraction, the number was rounded to the next highest integer, using the round half up method.

ii. Section 3A(3): Assigning names to electorates

The Committee agreed, in the interests of consistency, to assign electorate names from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name in that area that could be used.

iii. Section 3A(4): Division of district into electorates

The Committee agreed that each electorate would comprise a contiguous area of land such that all its inhabitants had convenient access, having given due recognition to water bodies and mountain regions in the area. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee agreed to use them as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. The Committee agreed not to split the smallest administrative units, GNDs. It also agreed to keep DSs intact to the extent possible. However, if DSs were required to be split to meet other specific criteria, they would be divided into groups of contiguous GNDs.

iv. Section 3A(4)(b)(i): Minimising disproportion in populations among electorates within a District

In order to determine the exact number that would eliminate any disproportion, the Committee first calculated the average population per single-member electorate in each district by dividing the total population of the district by the number of members to be elected under the simple majority system (Table 1.2). Since, some degree of disproportion could not be avoided when considering the needs of communities of interest and geographical or physical features (Section 3A(4)(b) (i) and (ii)), the Committee agreed to limit any disproportion in populations among electorates within a district to 10% above or below the average population per single-member electorate.

Sabaragamuwa	Ratnapura	1,088,007	12	90,667

The Committee further agreed that, should there be absolutely no other alternative to represent the needs of a minority community of interest (Section 3A(4)(a)) or provide access to inhabitants (Section 3A(4)(b)(ii)), it was empowered to demarcate an electorate where the population would be somewhat more disproportionate than the 10% tolerance limit agreed upon to accommodate such need.

v. Section 3A(5) and 3A(6): Creating Multi-member electorates and returning more members from an electorate

In consideration of Section 3A(4)(b)(i), the Committee agreed that a multi-member electorate would be required to represent a population of that multiple of the inhabitants in a single-member electorate, so that one or more members, representing an electorate in the district, each represented an equivalent number of persons in that district. The Committee therefore determined in such situations, wherever possible, to achieve the required objective, of elected members representing different communities of interest in the district, by concentrating each community in specific electorates, without resorting to multi-member electorates.

Analysis of Representations

20. The Committee received 678 submissions (written submissions were 294). The names of institutions, organizations and the persons who submitted representations are given in Appendices VI and VII. A summary of the number of submissions received is given in Table 1.3 below.

Table 1.3: Number of Representations Received under Each Administrative District

Political parties, civil organizations and peoples' representatives in Parliament, provincial councils and local authorities currently serving or who had served in the past, made written submissions to the Committee or expressed their views verbally at the public hearings conducted by the Committee on the delimitation of electorates in districts of provincial councils. In a broad analysis of the representations made, the views expressed by them and observations made by the Committee can be summarized in the following manner.

- (a) Some GNDs and some areas which are extensive in size are unwieldy for the public to get the services of the District Secretariats. It is not possible to make suggestions to this Committee to rectify them. However some representations were made to the Committee to delimit some divisions where the people's representatives could move easily with voters.
- (b) Certain disadvantageous situations faced by some stakeholders at the local authorities delimitation process which was fielded prior to this delimitation of provincial council electorates, were pointed out by the representatives. They drew the attention of the Committee to take them into consideration when carrying out a delimitation process for provincial councils and avert such situations in this exercise.

- (c) There were representations that taking the last Census conducted in the year 2012 is not justifiable in considering population of an administrative district as a base in this delimitation process. Due to the insecurity that prevailed in the North and the East, people who had vacated those areas have not totally returned to their dwellings as yet and therefore the CPH 2012 does not include accurate information of current populations in those areas. This is the reason for such representations. Their opinion was that information on population numbers for 2016 should be taken for this purpose in those areas.
- (d) It was evident through representations made to the Committee that the communities outside the majority residing in the districts believed that they were accorded fair opportunity of representation with the proportional representation system introduced by the provincial councils elections since 1988. They expected the same opportunity for the minority communities outside the majority population in administrative districts to continue with the current delimitation exercise as well. Many of those who represented the minority communities were of the view that it was difficult to place trust in the system of minority representation through the selection of representatives from the additional list of nominations of political parties and independent groups submitted for proportional representation, under the proposed provincial councils election systems in addition to the election of representatives for electorates. Therefore they preferred delimitation of electorates to represent minority communities. They pointed out that at least multi-member constituencies should be introduced for this purpose.
- (e) Proposals were made to maintain a balance of GNDs attached to electorates, because electorates are established with large extents of land, when emphasis is laid on the population number rather than the extent of land, in order to maintain a balance in the populations among electorates in administrative districts where the population density is low. One opinion expressed by proponents of this idea was that both the representatives of the electorate as well as the voter will be relieved with this arrangement.
- (f) There were proposals to increase the number of constituencies for the purpose of electing representatives. The Committee observed that such increases had taken place already when two instances were cited by the proponents. Firstly reasonable representation of the district has been allowed after considering the geographical features, composition of the population, distribution of the population and area expansion of the district. Secondly the number of representative areas in the administrative districts needs to be proportionately increased because the numbers of representatives of local authorities have been increased with the recent delimitation of local authority areas.

- (g) Proposals were also made to continue the currently practiced proportional representative system for provincial councils, as it is, because there is a tendency in the country of thinking in terms of ethnicity when demarcating a particular area to represent a particular community of an administrative district. It was also pointed out that the proportional representative system has been widely accepted and it has contributed more towards communal harmony than the area-based elections system.
- (h) The Committee provided ample time for interested parties to make proposals to demarcate electorates in administrative districts under a mixed representative system for provincial councils elections. Steps taken by the Committee to educate the respective stakeholders have been indicated in this report at various stages. In spite of all such efforts it has been observed that some parties do not have a clear understanding of the new representation system. Meanwhile, many persons who came to make proposals in this regard were not prepared with necessary facts to present their case.

10. Electoral Structure	Department of Elections

Chapter 2 General Review

- 22. This chapter presents four major subjects. The purpose of this chapter and its relevance needs to be explained.
- 23. People of Sri Lanka had been in the practice of electing their representatives to the elected bodies for a century (from 1911 to 2017). One objective of this chapter is to highlight the importance of the process of delimitation of electorates by this Committee in the context of delimitation during this period.
- 24. There is yet a second objective of this chapter. Delimitation for a mixed representation system is another beginning of a representation system coming from the period of area-based representation which was the original electoral system up to the mixed representation system. In this new representation system, the voter of this country has the democratic right of participation in the administration of the country through the decentralised administrative authority of a provincial council. As its second objective, this chapter describes briefly how this right in exercised.

Methodology to Elect People's Representatives

- 25. It is important to know how people participate in administration because democracy is a system of administration with the participation of people and the power ultimately lies with the people. Democracy today is identified as "representative democracy" because the people participate in the administration through their representatives.
- 26. The administrative structure consisting of the representatives of the people and the system by which these representatives are selected are built into the Constitution, the primary law and the election laws of the country. The electoral system of a country can be described as a system shaped by historical, social and political conditions of the country and amended from time to time. There is empirical evidence that administrative systems and the systems of electing people's representatives in many countries have adopted the same system as the mother countries of colonial rulers. Colonial rulers of Ceylon have thus imposed a similar pattern of influence in this country.
- 27. "Representation" is described today in many ways. When a representative is selected by electorate it is called the "representation of intentions". The representative is supposed to represent the electors in the Legislature and work for the benefit of the electors. There are two thoughts of how he should behave. One is that the representative should work according to the wishes of the elector. The other is that he should do what is best for his voter.

- 28. Today the organisations called political parties put forward their members as candidates at elections to implement the policies adopted by them. Political parties act as middlemen in this exercise and the voter has to select one of the candidates and vote for him.
- 29. There are various ways of electing representatives under various electoral systems. These systems prevailing in the world vary from one another but broadly they can be divided in to two i.e. majority system and proportional system
- 30. Under the majority system, the candidate who scores the largest number of votes, i.e. first-past-the post system (FPP), gets selected. Whether he has obtained an absolute majority is not considered. It is called the simple majority system. At the Provincial Councils Elections, half of the number of members from the administrative district will be elected under this system.
- 31. In the Proportional Representation System, the voter casts his vote for a party or an independent group. In addition, the voter has the opportunity to express his preference for a few candidates of the party or the group. The party or the group gets its number of seats according to the percentage of votes it has polled. Candidates get elected according to the number of preferences they have obtained and according to the number of seats available. This system is currently being practiced in Sri Lanka at parliamentary elections and provincial councils elections. The principle of this system of selection is to maintain a definite ratio between the number of seats and the number of votes polled by them.
- 32. Under the Proportional Representation System some countries allow the voter to select only the party. The order of priority in the list of candidates of these countries is determined by the party. In countries where this list system is adopted, a break-even percentage out of the votes polled is mandatory. This percentage was 12 ½% under the Parliamentary Elections Act of 1981 and later it was reduced to 5%. According to the original law, the parties or groups had to submit the list of names of candidates according to an order of priority. But this system was changed by the Parliamentary Elections (Amendment) Act No. 15 of 1988.

People's Representative Bodies of Sri Lanka and Electoral Systems

- 33. People's representative bodies of Sri Lanka, namely, Parliament, Provincial Councils and Local Authorities, conduct periodical elections and elect people's representatives. The simple majority system of Parliamentary elections which prevailed till 1977 was changed to a proportional representative system by the Constitution of 1978. For the local authorities, the candidate who polled the highest number of votes out of the candidates was elected from the 1950s. From 1977 onwards, laws were enacted to adopt the proportional representative system for these representative bodies as well. With the Provincial Councils Elections Act No 2 of 1988, the proportional representative system was adopted from the inception of provincial councils elections in this country.
- 34. Besides, the Constitution of 1978 provided for the people to directly elect an executive President by the Presidential Election Act No. 15 of 1981, and to obtain the people's opinion on formulating legislation directly through a referendum by the Referendum Act No 7 of 1981.

- 35. Although there are some differences among the electoral systems used to elect representatives for people's representative bodies mentioned above, generally the electoral systems were similar to each other. The main features of the electoral system are appended below.
  - i. Election of a group of members for large electorates
  - ii. Handing over a nomination paper with a list of candidates to the Returning Officer by a recognised political party or an independent group during the nomination period.
  - iii. Voter getting the opportunity of casting a vote for a party or group of his choice and expressing his preference for 3 candidates representing a party or group. (Later laws were framed allowing the voter to express all preferences for one candidate at local authorities elections)
  - iv. The number of seats of parties and groups are determined by the ratio of votes obtained by parties and groups.
  - v. Candidates are selected according to the order of preferences they obtained.
  - vi. At a Parliamentary election, 29 additional members are allocated to the parties/ groups according to the total number of votes they obtained in the entire island. (according to Article 99A of the Constitution)
  - vii. At provincial councils elections, two additional seats are allocated as bonus seats to the party or group which polled the majority of votes in the districts of a province, in addition to the number of seats obtained according to the ratio of votes.
- viii. At a Parliamentary election, firstly 2 seats are allotted to the party/group which polled the highest number of votes and the balance number of seats is allotted to the parties and groups according to the ratio of votes polled.
  - ix. When a vacancy occurs in Parliament, the Returning Officer appoints the next person in the nomination list of the party/group to which the vacancy belongs.
  - x. In case a vacancy occurs in a seat elected under Article 99 of the Constitution the vacancy is filled with a nomination obtained from the party/group.
- 36. Elections conducted at local, provincial and national levels for people's representative bodies are based on the proportional representative system. Shortcomings in this system followed after 1977 have been pointed out by many as follows:
  - i. There is no particular representative accountable for one particular area.
  - ii. Relevant parties have to spend significantly for election campaigns when the electorates are very large.
  - iii. Conflict situations arise among the candidates of the same party/group who aspire to obtain the highest number of preferences and this leads to violence.
  - iv. Parties or groups tend to select persons with high financial capacity in order to meet the campaign expenses and this would allow socially unsuitable persons to enter the fray.
  - v. Complexity of the count and working out the results.
- 37. The Legislature of the country was of the view that the proportional representation electoral system should be revised and a Parliamentary Select Committee was appointed by Parliament in the year 2007 to study and propose recommendations.

- 38. The Interim Report of this Special Committee was published in the Parliamentary Series No. 08, of the Sixth Parliament (Second Session).
- 39. The following recommendation appears in the Interim Report of the Special Committee.

"Having considered the representations received and the recommendations of the Ministry of Local Government and Provincial Councils, The Committee is of the view that the present system based on proportional representation and preference voting should be replaced by a mixed system of election combining first-past-the post and proportional representation system on a 2:1 ratio which is in line with the proposed Parliamentary election system".

Delimitation of Electorates

- 40. It was in the year 1911 that a section of persons in Ceylon got the experience of electing representatives from the electorates demarcated in the island to the legislature for the first time. The main legislature of the country which was in operation from the time before Independence was named in different ways till 1978. The law and the procedures of election of representatives to the legislature have undergone various changes during that 70 year period. In 1911, a limited number of Ceylonese who were limitedly privileged were allowed to exercise franchise under the colonial rule to elect 4 peoples' representatives for 4 electorates to the legislature on the first-past-the post basis. Details of the administrative districts of each electorate were described in sections 3 to 5 of Ordinance No 13 of 1910.
- 41. Ceylonese people have had a long experience in electing representatives to local authorities as well. Only a portion of members of the Legislative Council were elected through such elections from 1911 to 1930. Four (4) members in the year 1911, 16 members in the year 1920 and 29 members in the year 1923 were elected to the Council. Boundaries of the electorates were determined on the boundaries of the then administrative divisions and therefore, the extents of land area and the population numbers were not taken into consideration. As a result, there were high discrepancies in the numbers of electors and extents of electorates. The multiplicity of qualifications to become voters, which prevailed at the time, also had a heavy bearing on the discrepancies among electorates. One significant feature in this system was the allocation of seats exclusively for the representation of one ethnicity.
- 42. A Delimitation Commission was appointed in the year 1931 to demarcate electorates to establish the State Council. In this delimitation, boundaries of revenue divisions, chief headman's divisions and judicial divisions of local authorities were taken as the bases. This Commission comprised a chairman and two members appointed by the Governor. This delimitation was based on the provinces and the number of electorates so demarcated was 50.
- 43. On 11.08.1933 a Delimitation Commission was appointed with 3 members. This Commission changed only the boundaries of electorates of the State Council.

- 44. Electorates were established for a Parliament thereafter. Three members were appointed to the Delimitation Commission by the Governor under Article 76 of the Ceylon (Constitution) Order in Council 1946. The functions of this Delimitation Commission were described in Articles 41 and 76. The Commission was mandated to determine the number of electorates in the nine provinces on the basis of one electorate for 75,000 persons and 1,000 sq.km. The number of electorates for one province based on the extent was given in Article 41(2). The total number was 25. Legal provisions were there to consider social aspects and the composition of ethnicities in the demarcation. The total number of electorates established was 89. The number of returned members inclusive of multi-member electorates was 95. As per the recommendation of this Commission, 5 multi-member electorates were established and, if the Governor was of the opinion that any community was not adequately represented after an election, he could appoint six members to the House and thus, the number of members would become 101.
- 45. The next delimitation of electorates was effected in the year 1959 under that Constitution. The maximum limit in the number of electorates given in Article 76 was removed at this stage. In place of the number of persons in the determination of electorates, the Commission was directed to change this to the number of citizens of Ceylon. The role of the Commission was subject to change as a result of the Ceylon (Constitution) (Amendment) Act No. 4 of 1959. In accordance with the recommendation of this Commission, the Island was divided into 145 electorates and this consisted of 5 multi-member seats. The total number of members to be elected to Parliament was 151.
- 46. The directives to the Delimitation Commission given in the Constitution of 1946 had been changed by this time due to Articles 77 to 81 of the Republic Constitution of 1972 and the First Amendment to the Constitution made in February 1975. This time the directive was to create an electorate for 90,000 citizens. With this Amendment the total number was 160 electorates, including 6 multi-member electorates, and the total number of members to be elected increased to 168.
- 47. According to Article 95 of the Second Republic Constitution of 1978, the Delimitation Commission appointed in November 1978 had to engage in a one-time exercise of delimitation of electorates. A singular incident at this instance was that for the first time a delimitation process had to be carried out for a proportional representation electoral system. The Commission was tasked to divide the entire island in to not less than 20 and not more than 24 electoral districts without changing the existing administrative district boundaries and to give each of them a name and a number. Four members had to be fairly distributed among electorates in a province. The total number of members to be so divided in 9 provinces was 36.
- 48. It was significant that there were no other criteria laid down according to the provisions of the Constitution. The main reason was that the Commissioner of Elections had to determine every year after enumeration of electors, taking into consideration the number of voters in electorates, how the 160 members of Parliament should be distributed among the electorates recognized by the Delimitation Commission.

- 49. The legislation for proportional representation to the provincial councils and local authorities was enacted and the system was implemented to elect representatives after 1978. Thereafter the Parliament was keen to introduce a mixed electoral system of both proportional representation and election on an area-based system. Till the year 2012, it was the duty of the subject minister to determine the number of representatives to a local authority and to determine its area of authority, when a local authority is created according to the Councils Ordinance, Urban Councils Ordinance and the Pradeshiya Sabha Act. After 1977, members of local authorities were elected under a proportional representative system and therefore the entire local authority area was considered as one electoral area without any division thereof and one group of representatives could be elected. But with the Local Authorities Elections (Amendment) Act No. 22 of 2012 a delimitation policy was introduced to elect a portion of representatives of a local authority based on the area as determined by a Delimitation Committee.
- 50. Sixty percent (60%) of the members of a local authority are to be elected on the basis of representative areas through simple majority and 40% of members are to be elected on the basis of proportional representation according to the amendments effected to the Local Authorities Elections Ordinance during the period 2012 to 2017. Amendments also have been introduced to the Ordinance enabling a number of youth and women to be elected.
- 51. The subject minister in charge of local government appointed a committee on 07.12.2012 consisting of 5 members to delimit the local authority areas. The bases to be followed are enshrined in the relevant laws. Single member and multi-member constituencies can be demarcated according to the laws. The Committee report comprising of numbers and names of divisions, the number of members to be elected to the local authorities is submitted to the President by the minister and then the minister appoints a committee to review the divisions.

Devolution of Power, Establishment of Provincial Councils and Representing Provincial Councils

- 52. The province, the largest administrative land unit introduced by British Colonial rule in its history of administration of this country, has been subjected to a historic evolution influenced by administrative, social and political changes over time.
- 53. The Donoughmore Commission, appointed by the British Colonial government in 1931 to study administration of this country and make recommendations, recommended establishing a larger unit of "province" because the districts at that time in the Kandyan and maritime areas were large in number. Consequently 5 provinces were created in place of the four administrative units i.e. 22 districts, 9 disawanis, 4 provinces and an island (Delft). They were declared on 01.10.1832 as Northern Province, Southern Province, Eastern Province, Western Province and Central Province.
- 54. Those 5 provinces were revised from time to time and increased to 9 provinces. The North Western Province was established in 1845, North Central Province in 1873, Uva Province in 1886 and Sabaragamuwa Province in 1889. The importance placed on these provinces was reduced later because revenue administration based on districts became central. Later the district became the administrative area of the Government Agent by the Administrative Districts Act of 1955 and as a result the significance of the Province as the operative headquarter of administration was lost.

55. The legislature consisting of native people's representatives was keen to use the district administrative unit to reach developmental objectives for the benefit of the people. The government attempted to execute various activities through heads of the districts, the Government Agents (GAs). Administrative districts became the centre for administration to coordinate divisional developmental activities and through the Government Agent inequalities of divisional development were minimised, backward areas were brought to the forefront and, special programmes for poverty alleviation were conducted through GAs. The decentralised budget became an important area under the GAs. Divisional development programmes with donor funding were monitored through GAs. Through all these programmes and activities, powers and functions of the GAs were enhanced. These were evident during the decades of the 1960s to 1980s.

56. Shortfalls in the divisional development strategies were evident from time to time. There were drawbacks in the enforcement of the authority of officers. Ministries and Departments centralised in the capital were enforcing their authority in their own compartmentalized areas and, as a result, the functions of these district officers were delayed. This affected the coordination carried out by the GAs. These were viewed as weaknesses of the administration and the people's representatives were critical about the status quo. As they wanted to go before the people and ask for support at the next election, they were keen to take an interest in divisional development activities. The governments in the 1980s considered this as an opportunity for legislature at the district level and to build a mechanism to coordinate the development activities at the district level under the supervision of people's representatives as a remedy to the issues in the district.

57. District Development Councils were established by the Development Councils Act No. 35 of 1980, incorporating the town councils and village councils which were functional at the local level in order that the people's representatives were involved in the coordination of development activities at the district level to achieve the objectives of divisional development. District Members of Parliament were members of these councils and local level people's representatives were elected to these councils under the Development Councils Elections Act No.20 of 1981. An executive committee chaired by a District Minister appointed by the President and with the participation of people's representatives also functioned under this system. The objective of the Development Council was to accelerate divisional development. It was an administrative unit to steer divisional development with the participation of Local Authorities and people's representatives of the central government chaired by a District Minister.

58. There were two objectives of establishing Development Councils. Firstly, it was the decentralization of administration through a District Minister with executive powers who coordinated development activities of the government. Secondly, it was to mobilize people's participation in the implementation of development activities. This Council had to carry out planning of district development, advising on the implementation of development activities, evaluating the activities, taking remedial action when the activities encountered obstacles and coordinating interdepartmental activities in the district.

- 59. These Development Councils did not function for a long period of time. Pradeshiya Sabhas were established by the Pradeshiya Sabha Act No. 15 of 1987 to replace the Development Councils.
- 60. Rural people, the majority of the country's population living far away from the major cities, were never benefited by this decentralization of local administration, as expected. Rural areas continued to fall back and then, were lost in the dark. There was growing impatience in the rural society due to youth unemployment, absolute poverty and land problems, as they were living an agrarian life with many difficulties. In the 1950s, river valleys were developed, people were settled in those areas, and action was taken to develop those areas and the livelihoods of the farmers, supply power and take remedial action for their problems. Some success was evident in those activities, but the land and unemployment problems of the settlers, of the second generation and third generation were prevalent.
- 61. These issues resulted in unrest among youth in contemporary society. A youth uprising emerged in the decade of 1970 in the south and later, in the Northern and Eastern provinces. Protests against the administrative systems of government developed to the extent where the defense of the country was at stake and led to a civil war.
- 62. The governments in the 1980s made many attempts to resolve these problems. Provincial Councils of people's representatives were established as administrative authorities in the year 1987, with the authority to facilitate the people to participate in administrative matters through their representatives and to formulate legislation at the Provincial level.
  - (i) Establishment of Provincial Councils
- 63. Chapter XVIIA has been added to the Constitution by the Thirteenth Amendment and 26.01.1988 was nominated by HE, the President, as the effective date (Gazette No.491/10 of 03.01.1988). Gazette No.491/16 of 05.02.1988 was published as an order made by HE, the President, creating 9 Provincial Councils in Schedule 9 as given below,

1.Western	4.Sabaragamuwa	7. South
2.North West	5. Central	8. North Central
3.Uva	6. Eastern	9. North

- 64. Provincial Councils were established according to Article 154(2)(i) through an election conducted under the Provincial Councils Elections Act No.2 of 1988.
  - (ii) Provincial Councils Law
- 65. Major legal instruments relevant to the provincial councils law are the procedures of Provincial Councils Act No.42 of 1987 (effective date 01.02.1988), to provide legal provision in connection with the Provincial Council Services, Thirteenth Amendment to the Constitution and the Provincial Councils Elections Act No.2 of 1988.

(iii) Provincial Councils System

- 66. The law related to the Provincial Councils System appears in the Thirteenth Amendment to the Constitution and in the Provincial Councils Act No.42 of 1987.
- 67. The authority to enact statutes for the 37 subjects in the Provincial Councils list of the 9th schedule of the Constitution is executed subject to limitations. In addition, the Provincial Council has the authority to pass statutes with the consent of Parliament for the subjects in the concurrent list. But the power to implement subjects of national importance is vested with the central government. The term of office of the representatives elected under the Provincial Councils elections law is 5 years from the date of the first meeting.
- 68. The President appoints a Governor to each Provincial Council with the authority to implement executive power under Article 154(f) directly or through the cabinet of ministers of a provincial council. The provincial council can appoint a cabinet of ministers with the chief minister at the head and not more than 4 other ministers to aid and advise the Governor in the exercise of his functions. This cabinet is collectively responsible and answerable to the provincial council.
  - (iv) Number of Members in the Provincial Councils
- 69. In term of Section 2 of the Provincial Councils Act No.42 of 1987, the President should stipulate the number of members of each provincial council taking the land area and the population into consideration.
- 70. The President stipulated the number of members in each provincial council as published in the Extraordinary Gazette 491/17 of 05.02.1988 and given in Table 2.1.

Table 2.1 : Number of Members of each Provincial Council (1988)

- 71. Subsection 3(1) of the Provincial Councils Elections Act states that the number of Provincial Council members is the number of members to be elected from all administrative districts plus two additional members. The purpose of adding 2 members is to give 2 bonus seats to the party or the group which obtains the highest number of votes according to Section 61A(2) of the relevant Election Act.
  - (v) Number of Members to be Selected from Each District to the Provincial Council
- 72. In terms of Section 3 of the Provincial Councils Elections Act No.2 of 1988 the number of members to be elected from each administrative district was determined by the Commissioner of Elections for the purpose of conducting the first Provincial Councils Election held in the year 1988. The basis of the population number was the Population Census of 1981. According to Section 3(4) of the principal enactment, this determination of the Commissioner of Elections cannot be questioned in any court of law. Under Section 2 of the Provincial Councils Act No.42 of 1987, the President had to declare this determination of the Commissioner of Elections.
- 73. The number of members to be elected from administrative districts as determined by the Commissioner of Elections based on the square mileage of districts certified by the Survey General and the Census 1981 is the given in Table II in the Report of the Commissioner of Elections on the First Provincial Council Election held in 1988.
  - (vi) Number of Members Elected from Administrative Districts
- 74. In terms of Section 3A (2) newly inserted to the Principal Act, the number of electorates created for the purpose of electing the number of members to be elected from each district, had to be divided by this Delimitation Committee in terms of the provisions made in this amended Act. The Committee shall determine the 50% of the number of members to be elected for the districts rounded to the nearest number , based on the determination of the Commissioner of Elections in terms of the newly inserted Section 3A(2) to the Principal Act . The number of members to be elected from administrative districts for the electorates unanimously agreed upon by the Committee appears in Column IV of Table 2.2.

(vii) Provincial Councils Elections (Amendment) Act No.5 of 2004

75. The number of members of a Provincial Council was given in the original Provision of the Provincial Councils Elections Act No. 2 of 1988. Legal provisions were provided under Section 3A to determine the number of members to be returned from districts when a provincial councils election is scheduled to be held after a general Census. Accordingly, the Commissioner of Elections published the number of members to be returned based on the Census 2001 by the Gazette Notification 1919/4 of 16.12.2003. This provision was rescinded by Section 4 of the Provincial Councils Elections (Amendment) Act No.5 of 2004, which provided for acceptance of the original determination of the President on the number of members to be elected to provinces as a one-time determination and to decide on the number of electorates for districts according to the population census conducted thereafter. The number of members determined accordingly is given in column IV of Table 2.3.

(viii) The Procedure of Electing People's Representatives Under the new Provincial Councils Election System

- a) Two lists of nominations, i.e. candidates contesting for electorates in the administrative districts in the province and candidates contesting for the district, are submitted at the time of handing over nominations.
- b) 25% of the total number of candidates in the nomination papers have to be female candidates ( Commissioner of Elections informs the concerned parties in advance of the number of female candidates)
- c) The voter marks the vote in the ballot paper for the party or independent group which fields candidates.

- d) The Returning Officer will make arrangements to display the list of candidates put forward by parties and independent groups for the information of the voter. This information may also be sent to the voter with the official poll card, though it is not a legal requirement.
- e) The candidate who collects the largest number of votes of the contesting parties and groups is selected for the electorate.
- f) The total number of valid votes received by all the candidates of each recognised political party and independent group is divided by the total number of members to be elected (according to the electorates and on district basis). The number of votes that a party or group should obtain (qualifying number) is calculated on this division.
- g) The next stage of the count is to divide the numbers of votes obtained by parties/groups by the qualifying number in order to decide the number of seats entitled to each party/group.
- h) When a party/group obtains seats in excess of the entitled number of seats after dividing the number of votes received by the qualifying number, such party/group will not be entitled to select candidates from the district list. However, when a party or group gets a number of seats below its entitlement in this calculation under electorates, the balance number of members can be obtained from the district list of candidates of such party/group.

CHAPTER 3

Western Province

76. The Western province (WP) is located to the South West of Sri Lanka and has a total area of 3,684 km², which is distributed as 699 km² in Colombo district, 1,387 km² in Gampaha district, and 1,598 km² in Kalutara district. The WP is the smallest province of the country. It is also the most densely populated and urbanised province in the country. Its area is 5.6% of the total area of the country. The extents of land and inland waters in the province are 3,593 km² and 91 km², respectively. Inland water bodies cover only 2.5% of the total area of the province. The province is bounded on the North by the North Western province, on the South by the Southern province, on the East by Sabaragamuwa province and on the West by the sea. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 218 km² or 5.9% of the total area of the province. The road kilometerage of the province was 3,649 in 2016. The commercial capital, Colombo, and the legislative capital, Sri Jayewardenepura, are located in the WP.

77. The WP contributed 41% to Sri Lanka's total economic output in 2015, of which it contributed 41% of Services, 50% of Industry and 9% of Agriculture. Within the WP, economic output was mainly from Services (61%), followed by Industry (37%) and Agriculture (2%).In 2016, employment in the WP was mainly in Services (61%), followed by Industry (33%) and Agriculture (6%).

78. The following sections will focus on some demographic aspects of the WP, based on CPH 2012 data, and the administrative, local government and polling structures of the province and the respective districts.

Total Population, Population Density and Literacy

79. According to the CPH 2012, the total population of the WP was 5,851,130, which is equivalent to 28.7% of the total population in the country. Out of the total population of the province, 39.7% or 2,324,349 belonged to Colombo district, 39.4 % or 2,304,833 to Gampaha district and 20.9% or 1,221,948 to Kalutara district. The population density in the province was 1,628 pp km<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of the population aged 10 years and over was 98.0 % in 2012.

Population Distribution by Gender

80. The distribution of the male and female population in the province, its districts and Sri Lanka is given in Table 3.1. It can be seen from the table that the female population outnumbered the male population in all three districts, as in other provinces of the country.

Colombo District

86. Colombo district is situated between the North latitudes  $6^042$ ' and  $6^058$ ' and between the East longitudes  $79^049$ ' and  $80^012$ ', covering an area of 699 km². Its area as a percentage of the total area of the province is 19%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 676 km² and 23 km², respectively. Inland water bodies cover only 3.3% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Gampaha district, to the South by Kalutara district, to the East by Kegalle and Ratnapura districts and to the West by the sea. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 20 km² or 2.9% of the total area of the district. The highest elevation of the district is around 450+m.

87. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 2,324,349 and the population density was 3,438 pp km², the highest among all districts in Sri Lanka. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 98.0% in 2012. The commercial capital (Colombo) and the Administrative capital (Sri Jayewardenepura) of the country are located in the Colombo district. Although the district is highly urbanised (77.6%), there are also very rural areas in the district in which the balance 22% of the population live. The Parliament and most Government Ministries and Departments are located within the Colombo district. The city of Colombo lies on the island's western shores. Due to its large harbour and its strategic position, Colombo has been a seaport for more than 2,000 years. The road kilometerage of the district was 864 in 2016. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (70%), followed by Industry (28%) and Agriculture (2%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

88. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 3.1.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sinhalese (76.5%) and Buddhists (70.2%), followed by Sri Lanka Moor (10.7%) and followers of Islam (11.8%). The percentages of Tamil population (both Sri Lankan Tamil and Indian Tamil) and the Hindu population in the district are 11.1% and 8%, respectively. Roman Catholics and other Christians comprise a 9.9% share of the population.

Delimitation of Electorates in Colombo District

- 89. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Colombo District in the WP Provincial Council was 40. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Colombo District had to be divided into electorates to elect 20 Provincial Councilors.
- 90. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 116,217 for the population of 2,324,349 residing in 557 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 13 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.
- 91. The Committee received 22 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 12 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 10 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 06.12.2017.
- 92. Some proposals suggested delimitation of electorates based on old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions) and Local Authority Areas. The Committee could not consider some of these proposals, as in some proposals populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, while other proposals were incomplete or had insufficient information to be considered. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. However, wherever possible, the Committee accommodated the proposals made when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates, while safeguarding balanced representation of communities of interest.
- 93. Two proposals suggested multi member electorates in a few DS areas, where one proposal mentioned the multi-ethnicity of the district. The Committee noted that the populations in most of these DSs were inadequate for multimember electorates, but took note of these proposals when creating electorates.
- 94. Some proposals requested creation of electorates to safeguard the rights of the minority communities of interest, namely, Tamils and Moors, where some proposals mentioned specific areas. The Committee noted that Tamils and Moors comprised 11.1% and 10.7%, respectively, of the entire District population and that it was possible to safeguard representation of communities of interest, without resorting to multimember electorates, which may not have achieved the required objective of elected members representing different communities in that multimember electorate. Hence, the Committee concentrated each community of interest in specific electorates to safeguard their interests in consideration of Section 3A (4) (a) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 95. Nine submissions required no action, as they contained no proposals or were outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 96. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name of the area that could be used for the electorate.

97. In summary, Colombo District was divided into 20 single member electorates, with 2 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 6 DSs each divided between 2 electorates, 2 DSs each divided among 3 electorates and 3 DSs divided among 4 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -9.8% and +7.3% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Gampaha District

98. Gampaha district is situated between the North latitudes 6<sup>0</sup>54'and 7<sup>0</sup>7'and between the East longitudes 79<sup>0</sup>48' and 80<sup>0</sup>12', covering an area of 1,387 km<sup>2</sup>. Its area as a percentage of the total area of the province is 37.6%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 1,341 km<sup>2</sup> and 46 km<sup>2</sup>,respectively. Inland water bodies cover only 3.3% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Puttalam and Kurunegala districts, to the South by Colombo district, to the East by Kegalle district, to the West by the sea. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 22 km<sup>2</sup> or 1.6% of the total area of the district. The elevation of the district rises up to 310+ m above sea level.

99. According to the CPH 2012, the total population of the district was 2,304,833 and the population density was 1,719 pp km<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 98.5% in 2012. With the 1978 constitutional reforms, Gampaha was declared a new administrative district, by carving out a part of the Colombo district, and its capital was established in Gampaha town, which grew rapidly thereafter. The flying distance from Gampaha to Colombo is 24 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 1,670 in 2016. The main international airport of the country is situated at Katunayaka in the Gampaha district. Two important industrial zones have been established in the Gampaha district at Biyagama and Katunayaka. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (57%), followed by Industry (38%) and Agriculture (5%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

Delimitation of Electorates in Gampaha District

101. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Gampaha District in the WP Provincial Council was 40. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Gampaha District had to be divided into electorates to elect 20 Provincial Councilors.

- 102. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 115,242 for the population of 2,304,833 residing in 1,177 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 13 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.
- 103. The Committee received 40 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 23 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 17 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the afternoon of 06.12.2017.
- 104. The majority of proposals suggested complete and incomplete delimitation of electorates based on DSs, old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions) and Local Authority Areas. The Committee could not consider some of these proposals, as in some proposals populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, while other proposals were incomplete or had insufficient information to be considered. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. However, wherever possible, the Committee accommodated the proposals made when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates, while safeguarding balanced representation of communities of interest.
- 105. Two proposals suggested multi member electorates in a few DS areas. The Committee noted that the populations in most of these DSs were inadequate for multimember electorates, but took note of these proposals when creating electorates.
- 106. Two proposals requested creation of electorates to safeguard the rights of the minority communities of interest. The Committee noted that Moors and Tamils comprised 4.2% and 3.9%, respectively, of the entire District population and accommodated these suggestions as best possible, while safeguarding balanced representation of communities of interest.
- 107. Eight submissions required no action, as they contained no proposals or were outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 108. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name of the area that could be used for the electorate. There were no names suggested for electorates in the submissions.
- 109. In summary, Gampaha District was divided into 20 single member electorates, with 8 DSs each divided between 2 electorates, 4 DSs each divided among 3 electorates and one DS divided among 4 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -7.0% and +4.8% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Kalutara District

110. Kalutara district is situated between the North latitudes 6<sup>0</sup>19' and 6<sup>0</sup>49' and between the East longitudes 79<sup>0</sup>58' and 80<sup>0</sup>18', covering an area of 1,598 km<sup>2</sup>. Itsareaas a percentage of the total area of the province is 43.4%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 1,576 km<sup>2</sup> and 22 km<sup>2</sup>, respectively. Inland water bodies cover only 1.4% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Colombo district, to the South by Galle district, to the East by Ratnapura district and to the West by the sea. Kalutara district is the southernmost district of the WP and the Kalutara Bridge, which has been built at the mouth of the Kalu Ganga, serves as a major link between the Western and Southern provinces. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 176 km<sup>2</sup> or 11% of the total area of the district. The elevation of the district rises up to 720+ m above sea level.

111. According to the CPH 2012, the total population of the district was 1,221,948 and the population density was 775 pp km<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 97.2% in 2012. The capital of the district is Kalutara and its flying distance from Colombo is 41 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 1,115 in 2016. Employment in the district was mainly in Services (53%), followed by Industry (31%) and Agriculture (16%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

112. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 3.3.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sinhalese (86.8%) and Buddhists (83.4%), followed by Sri Lanka Moors (9.3%) and followers of Islam (9.4%). The percentages of Tamil population (both Sri Lankan Tamil and Indian Tamil) and Hindu population in the district are 3.8% and 3.2%, respectively. The percentage of Roman Catholics and Other Christians is 4%.

Delimitation of Electorates in Kalutara District

113. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Kalutara District in the WP Provincial Council was 22. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Kalutara District had to be divided into electorates to elect 11 Provincial Councilors.

- 114. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 111,086 for the population of 1,221,948 residing in 762 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 14 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.
- 115. The Committee received 40 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 16 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 24 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 07.12.2017.
- 116. Most proposals suggested delimitation of electorates based on DSs, old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions), and Local Authority Areas. The Committee could not consider some of these proposals, as in some proposals populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3(A) (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, while other proposals were incomplete or had insufficient information to be considered. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. However, wherever possible, the Committee accommodated the proposals made when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates, while safeguarding balanced representation of communities of interest.
- 117. Two proposals suggested multi member electorates in a few areas. The Committee noted that the populations in most of these DSs were inadequate for multimember electorates, but took note of these proposals when creating electorates.
- 118. One proposal each requested creation of electorates in specific areas to safeguard the rights of the minority communities of interest, namely, Moors and Tamils. The Committee noted that Moors and Tamils comprised 9.3% and 3.8%, respectively, of the entire District population, and concentrated each community of interest in specific electorates to safeguard their balanced representation in consideration of Section 3A (4) (a) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 119. Twenty submissions required no action, as they were outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 120. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate.
- 121. In summary, Kalutara District was divided into 11 single member electorates, with 5 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 4 DSs each divided between 2 electorates, 4 DSs divided among 3 electorates and one DS divided among 4 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -8.9% and +6.6% of the average population per electorate as follows:

CHAPTER 4

Central Province

122. The Central province (CP) is located in the central hills of Sri Lanka and has a total area of 5,674km², which is distributed as 1,940 km² in Kandy district, 1,993 km² in Matale district, and 1,741 km² in Nuwara Eliya district. The total area of the province is 8.6% of the total area of the country. The extents of land and inland waters in the province are 5,575 km² and 99 km², respectively. Inland water bodies cover only1.7% of the total area of the province. The province is bounded on the North by the North Central province, on the South by Sabaragamuwa province, on the East by the Uva and Eastern provinces and on the West by the North Western and Sabaragamuwa provinces. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 1,556km² or 27.4% of the total area of the province. The road kilometerage of the province was 3,991 in 2016. The provincial capital is Kandy and it is the second largest city in Sri Lanka and one of the most sacred cities in the country because of the Dalada Maligawa, Temple of the Sacred Tooth Relic.

123. The CP contributed 10% to Sri Lanka's total economic output in 2015. It contributed 11% of services, 8% of industry and 14% of agriculture. Within the CP, economic output was mainly from Services (65%), followed by Industry (23%) and Agriculture (12%). In 2016, employment in the CP was mainly in Services (42%), followed by Agriculture (37%) and Industry (21%).

124. The following sections will focus on some demographic aspects of the CP, based on CPH 2012 data, and the administrative, local government and polling structures of the province and the respective districts.

Total Population, Population Density and Literacy

125. According to the CPS 2012, the total population of the CP was 2,571,557, which was equivalent to 12.6 % of the total population in the country. Out of the total population of the province, 53.5% or 1,375,382 belonged to Kandy district, 18.8 % or 484,531 to Matale district and 27.7% or 711,644 to Nuwara Eliya district. The population density of the province was 461 ppkm<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of the populationaged 10 years and over was 93.9% in 2012.

Population Distribution by Gender

126. The distribution of the male and female population in the province, its districts and Sri Lanka is given in Table 4.1. It can be seen from the table that the female population outnumbered the male population in all three districts as in other provinces of the country.

Delimitation of Electorates in Kandy District

135. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Kandy District in the CP Provincial Council was 29. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Kandy District had to be divided into electorates to elect 15 Provincial Councilors.

136. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 91,692 for the population of 1,375,382 residing in 1,188 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 20 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

- 137. The Committee received 41 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 18 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 23 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the afternoon of 22.11.2017.
- 138. Most proposals suggested complete and incomplete delimitation of electorates, based on DSs, old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions) and Local Authority Areas, including multi member electorates. The Committee could not consider some of these proposals, as in some proposals, populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, while other proposals were incomplete or had insufficient information to be considered. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. However, wherever possible, the Committee accommodated the proposals made when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates, but within agreed tolerance limits to minimize disproportion in populations among electorates, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 139. Several proposals suggested creating multi member electorates in several areas to ensure representation of minority communities of interest, namely, Muslims and Tamils. The Committee noted that the Moors comprised 13.9% and Tamils 11.2% of the entire District population and that it was possible to safeguard representation of communities of interest, without resorting to multimember electorates, which may not have achieved the required objective of elected members representing different communities in that multimember electorate. Hence, the Committee concentrated each community of interest in specific electorates in those areas to safeguard their interests in consideration of Section 3A (4) (a) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 140. Some proposals suggested safeguarding the rights of minority communities of interest, namely, Muslims and Tamils. The Committee took note of these proposals when creating electorates, while ensuring balanced representation of communities within the district, as mentioned above.
- 141. Five submissions required no action, as they contained no proposals or proposals, which were outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 142. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. There were no names suggested for electorates in the submissions.
- 143. In summary, Kandy District was divided into 15 single member electorates, with 8 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 5 DSs each divided between 2 electorates and 7 DSs each divided among 3 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within 8.8% and +8.1% of the average population per electorate as follows:

The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 725km² or 36.4% of the total area of the district. The elevation of the district ranges from 50 m to 1,890+ m above sea level.

145. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 484,531 and the population density was 248 pp km<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 94.2% in 2012. ### Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sinhalese (80.8%) and Buddhists (79.5%), followed by Sri Lanka Moor (9.2%) and followers of Islam (9.4%). #### Delimitation of Electorates in Matale District

147. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Matale District in the CP Provincial Council was 11. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Matale District had to be divided into electorates to elect 6 Provincial Councilors.

148. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 80,755 for the population of 484,531 residing in 545 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 11 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

- 149. The Committee received 15 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 5 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 10 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 22.11.2017.
- 150. Several proposals suggested complete and incomplete delimitation of electorates based on DSs, with one based on Local Authority areas. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. Wherever possible, the Committee considered these proposals when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates, but within agreed tolerance limits to minimize disproportion in populations among electorates, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 151. A few proposals suggested multi member electorates in the Matale, Rattota and Ukuwela areas. The Committee noted that Tamils and Muslims comprised 9.8% and 9.2%, respectively, of the entire District population, less than 35% of the population required for a multimember electorate. Hence, the Committee recognised that the objective of achieving a minority representative as one of the councilors in a multi member electorate was unlikely to be achieved as the community of interest was too small, and instead, concentrated each community of interest in specific electorates to safeguard their interests in consideration of Section 3A (4) (a) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 152. Four submissions required no action, as they contained no proposals or proposals that were outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 153. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate.
- 154. In summary, Matale District was divided into 6 single member electorates, with 5 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 4 DSs each divided between 2 electorates and 2 DSs each divided among 3 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within 5.2% and +1.4% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Delimitation of Electorates in Nuwara Eliya District

158. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Nuwara Eliya District in the CP Provincial Council was 16. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Nuwara Eliya District had to be divided into electorates to elect 8 Provincial Councilors.

159. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 88,956 for the population of 711,644 residing in 491 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 5 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

160. The Committee received 35 proposals in 34 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 7 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 27 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 23.11.2017.

- 161. Several proposals suggested complete and incomplete delimitation of electorates, and were based on DSs, old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions) and Local Authority Areas, including one for a multi member electorate. The Committee could not consider some of these proposals, as populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. However, wherever possible, the Committee accommodated the proposals made when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates, but within agreed tolerance limits to minimize disproportion in populations among electorates, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 162. Several proposals suggested safeguarding the rights of a minority community of interest (Tamils), varying from 4-5 electorates/members, including some for multi member electorates in the Nuwara Eliya town area. The Committee noted that it was possible to safeguard representation of communities of interest, without resorting to multimember electorates, which may not have achieved the required objective of elected members representing different communities in that multimember electorate. Hence, the Committee concentrated each community of interest in specific electorates to safeguard their interests in consideration of Section 3A (4) (a) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 163. Fifteen submissions required no action, as they contained no proposals or proposals to change the number of electorates, which was outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 164. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. This was consistent with several named electorates in a few proposals received.
- 165. In summary, Nuwara Eliya District was divided into 8 single-member electorates, with one DS remaining undivided within electorates, 2 DSs each divided between 2 electorates and 2 DSs each divided among 3 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -8.5% and +7.2% of the average population per electorate as follows:

CHAPTER 5

Southern Province

166. The Southern province (SP) has a total area of 5,544 km², which is distributed as 1,652 km² in Galle district, 1,283 km² in Matara district, and 2,609 km² in Hambantota district. Its area is 8.4% of the total area of the country. The extents of land and inland waters in the province are 5,383 km² and 161 km², respectively. Inland water bodies cover only 2.9% of the total area of the province. The province is bounded on the North by the Western, Sabaragamuwa and Uva provinces and on the South, East and West by the sea. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 992 km² or 17.9% of the total area of the province. The road kilometerage of the province was 3,204 in 2016. The provincial capital is Galle.

167. The SP contributed 11% of Sri Lanka's total economic output in 2015, of which it contributed 10% to Services, 9% to Industry and 17% to Agriculture. Within the SP, economic output was mainly from Services (60%), followed by Industry (26%) and Agriculture (14%). In 2016, employment in the SP was mainly in Services (40%) and Agriculture (36%), followed by Industry (24%).

168. The following sections will focus on some demographic aspects of the SP, based on CPH 2012 data, and the administrative, local government and polling structures of the province and the respective districts.

Total Population, Population Density and Literacy

169. According to the CPH 2012, the total population of the SP was 2,477,285, which is equivalent to 12.2 % of the total population in the country. Out of the total population of the province, 42.9 % or 1,063,334 belonged to Galle district, 32.9% or 814,048 to Matara district and 24.2% or 599,093 to Hambantota district. The population density of the province was 460 pp km<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of the populationaged 10 years and over was 95.3 %.

Population Distribution by Gender

170. The distribution of the male and female population in the province, its districts and Sri Lanka is given in Table 5.1. It can be seen from the table that the female population outnumbered the male population in all three districts as in other provinces of the country.

Inland water bodies cover 2.1% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Kalutara and Ratnapura districts, to the South and West by the sea and to the East by Matara district. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 213km<sup>2</sup> or 12.9% of the total area of the district. A part of the tropical Sinharaja rain forest is situated in this district. The elevation of the district rises to about 820+ m above sea.

177. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 1,063,334 and the population density was 658 pp km<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 96.2% in 2012. The capital of the district is Galle and its flying distance from Colombo is 105 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 1,209 km in 2016. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (41%) and Agriculture (35%), followed by Industry (24%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

178. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 5.1.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sinhalese (94.4%) and Buddhists (93.9%), followed by Sri Lanka Moor (3.6%) and followers of Islam (3.7%). The percentages of Tamil population (both Sri Lankan Tamil and Indian Tamil) and the Hindu population in the district are below 2%.

Delimitation of Electorates in Galle District

179. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Galle District in the SP Provincial Council was 22. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Galle District had to be divided into electorates to elect 11 Provincial Councilors.

180. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 96,667 for the population of 1,063,334 residing in 895 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 19 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

- 181. The Committee received 22 proposals from 21 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 9 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 12 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the afternoon of 07.12.2017.
- 182. The majority of proposals suggested delimitation of electorates based on combining DSs or parts of DSs, old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions) and Local Authority Areas. The Committee could not consider some of these proposals, as in some proposals populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, while other proposals were incomplete or had insufficient information to be considered. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. The Committee accommodated the proposals, where possible, when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates, within agreed tolerance limits to minimise disproportion among electorates in population numbers, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 183. Several proposals suggested a multi member electorate for the Galle Town area to ensure representation of a minority community of interest. The Committee noted that the Muslims comprised 39,267 (3.7%) of the entire District population, less than 25% of the population required for a multimember electorate. Hence, the Committee recognised that the objective of achieving a minority representative as one of the councilors in a multi member electorate was unlikely to be achieved as the community of interest was too small, and instead, concentrated the Muslim community of interest in one electorate to accommodate these proposals as best possible, while safeguarding balanced representation of all communities of interest.
- 184. One proposal requested to include specified GNs in the proposed Galle Town electorate to raise the Muslim minority share in the electorate. The Committee accommodated this request as best possible, in recognition of a community of interest.
- 185. Three submissions required no action, as 2 contained no proposals and one proposal about Local Authority Areas was outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 186. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. This was consistent with one proposal received to name one particular electorate.
- 187. In summary, Galle District was divided into 11 single member electorates, with 10 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 7 DSs each divided between 2 electorates and 2 DSs divided among 3 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -5.0% and +7.9% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Matara District

188. Matara district is situated between the North latitudes 5<sup>0</sup>55' and 6<sup>0</sup>23' and between the East longitudes 80<sup>0</sup>22' and 80<sup>0</sup>43', covering an area of 1,283 km<sup>2</sup>. Its area as a percentage of the total area of the province is 23.1%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 1,270 km<sup>2</sup> and 13 km<sup>2</sup>, respectively. Inland water bodies cover only 1% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Ratnapura district, to the South by the sea, to the East by Hambantota district and to the West by Galle district. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 200km<sup>2</sup> or 15.6% of the total area of the district. A part of the tropical Sinharaja rain forest is situated in this district. The elevation of the district rises to about 1220+ m above sea level.

189. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 814,048 and the population density was 641 pp km<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 94.8% in 2012. The capital of the district is Matara and its flying distance from Colombo is 133 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 935 in 2016. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (39%) and Agriculture (37%), followed by Industry (23%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

190. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 5.2.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sinhalese (94.3%) and Buddhists (94.1%), followed by Sri Lanka Moor (3.1%) and followers of Islam (3.2%). The percentages of Tamil population (both Sri Lankan Tamil and Indian Tamil) and the Hindu population in the district are below 3%.

Delimitation of Electorates in Matara District

191. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Matara District in the SP Provincial Council was 17. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Matara District had to be divided into electorates to elect 9 Provincial Councilors.

192. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 90,450 for the population of 814,048 residing in 650 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 16 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

- 193. The Committee received 7 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 4 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 3 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 08.12.2017.
- 194. The majority of proposals suggested delimitation of electorates based on combining DSs or parts of DSs and Local Authority Areas. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of Local Authority electoral boundaries for practical purposes. The Committee considered these proposals when demarcating electorates, but within agreed tolerance limits to minimize disproportion in populations among electorates, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 195. One proposal suggested a multi member electorate in the old Weligama Parliamentary electorate to ensure representation of a minority community of interest. The Committee noted that the largest minority Community of interest (Muslims) comprised 25,614 (3.2%) of the entire District population, less than 16% of the population required for a multimember electorate. Hence, the Committee recognised that the objective of achieving a minority representative as one of the councilors in a multi member electorate was unlikely to be achieved as the community of interest was too small and instead, concentrated the Muslim community of interest in one electorate to accommodate this proposalas best possible, while safeguarding balanced representation of all communities of interest.
- 196. One submission suggested that Southern Provincial Council should have at least one Muslim representation and hence, proposed to concentrate specific GNDs in the Weligama Electorate to make Muslims a deciding factor. The Committee accommodated this request as best possible, in recognition of a community of interest.
- 197. One submission about a Parliamentary electorate required no action as it was outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 198. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. The names were consistent with one proposal received with named electorates.
- 199. In summary, Matara District was divided into 9 single member electorates, with 9 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 5 DSs each divided between 2 electorates and 2 DSs divided among 3 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -3.7% and +4.2% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Hambantota District

200. Hambantota district is situated between the North latitudes 5<sup>0</sup>58' and 6<sup>0</sup>34' and between the East longitudes 80<sup>0</sup>36' and 81<sup>0</sup>42', covering an area of 2,609 km<sup>2</sup>. Its area as a percentage of the total area of the province is 47%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 2,496 km<sup>2</sup> and 113 km<sup>2</sup>, respectively. Inland water bodies cover 4.3% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Ratnapura and Monaragala districts, to the South by the sea, to the East by the sea and Ampara district and to the West by Matara district. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 579 km<sup>2</sup> or 22.2% of the total area of the district. The elevation of the district varies -2 m to 780+ m from sea level. Historical evidence suggests that Hambantota had served as a principal port throughout ancient Sri Lankan history. The Hambantota region formed part of the ancient Ruhuna kingdom in Sri Lanka's history. A new harbour and an airport have been recently established in Hambantota district.

201. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 599,903 and the population density was 240 pp km<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 94.1% in 2012. The capital of the district is Hambantota and its flying distance from Colombo is 167 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 1,060 in 2016. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (37%) and Agriculture (37%), followed by Industry (26%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

202. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 5.3.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sinhalese (97.1%) and Buddhists (96.7%), followed by Sri Lanka Moor (1.1%) and followers of Islam (2.5%). The percentages of Tamil population (both Sri Lankan Tamil and Indian Tamil) and the Hindu population in the district are below 1%.

Delimitation of Electorates in Hambantota District

203. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Hambantota District in the SP Provincial Council was 14. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Hambantota District had to be divided into electorates to elect 7 Provincial Councilors.

204. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 85,700 for the population of 599,903 residing in 576 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 12 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

205. The Committee received 6 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 2 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 4 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the afternoon of 08.12.2017.

206. Some submissions suggested delimitation of electorates based on a combination of DSs, parts of DSs and old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions) and Local Authority Areas. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of Local Authority electoral boundaries for practical purposes. Furthermore, the Committee noted that the populations were significantly disproportionate among electorates in two submissions and one submission proposed a non-contiguous electorate. The Committee accommodated these proposals when combining DSs and as best possible, within agreed tolerance limits to minimise disproportion in populations among electorates, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.

207. One submission suggested a multi member electorate in the Tissamaharama Parliamentary electorate to ensure representation of a minority community of interest (Muslims). The Committee noted that the Muslims comprised 15,204 (2.5%) of the entire District population, less than 10% of the population required for a multimember electorate. Hence, the Committee recognised that the objective of achieving a minority representative as one of the councilors in a multi member electorate was unlikely to be achieved as the community of interest was too small in the District.

208. One submission suggested Hambantota DS as an electorate to ensure one PC member from the Muslim community. The Committee noted that the population in Hambantota DS was inadequate to form an electorate, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.

209. Two submissions required no action, as one submission contained no proposal and one proposal to increase the members in the Provincial Council was outside the mandate of the Committee.

- 210. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate.
- 211. In summary, Hambantota District was divided into 7 single member electorates, with 8 DSs remaining undivided within electorates and 4 DSs each divided between 2 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -4.1% and +3.9% of the average population per electorate as follows:

CHAPTER 6

Northern Province

212. The Northern province (NP), the third largest province of the country, has a total area of 8,884 km², which is distributed as 1,025 km² in Jaffna district, 1,279 km² in Kilinochchi district, 1,996 km² in Mannar district, 1,967 km² in Vavuniya district and 2,617 km² in Mullaitivu district. Its area is 13.5% of the total area of the country. The extents of land and inland waters in the province are 8,290 km²and 594 km², respectively. Inland water bodies cover 6.7% of the total area of the province. The province is bounded on the North, East and West by the sea and on the South by the North Western, North Central and Eastern provinces. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 4,632km² or 52.1% of the total area of the province. The road kilometerage of the province was 3,379 in 2016. The provincial capital is Jaffna.

213. The NP contributed 4% to Sri Lanka's total economic output in 2015, of which, it contributed 4% to Services, 2% to Industry and 6% to Agriculture. Within the NP, economic output was mainly from Services (65%), followed by Industry (19%) and Agriculture (16%). In 2016, employment in the NP was mainly in Services (50%), followed by Agriculture (28%) and Industry (22%).

214. The following sections will focus on some demographic aspects of the NP, based on CPH 2012 data, and the administrative, local government and polling structures of the province and the respective districts.

Total Population, Population Density and Literacy

215. According to the CPH 2012, the total population of the NP was 1,061,315, which is equivalent to 5.2 % of the total population in the country. Out of the total population of the province, 55 % or 583,882 belonged to Jaffna district, 10.7% or 113,510 to Kilinochchi district, 9.4% or 99,570 to Mannar district, 16.2% or 172,115 to Vavuniya district and 8.7% or 92,238 to Mullaitivu district. It should be noted that for election purposes the NP has been divided into two electoral districts, namely, Jaffna and Vanni. Jaffna electoral district comprises two administrative districts, namely, Jaffna and Kilinochchi. In fact, Kilinochchi district has been considered a polling division of Jaffna electoral district. Vanni electoral district comprises the remaining three administrative districts of the NP namely Mannar, Vavuniya and Mullaitivu.

Jaffna District

222. Jaffna district is situated between the North latitudes 9<sup>0</sup>27' and 9<sup>0</sup>50' and between the East longitudes 79<sup>0</sup>31' and 80<sup>0</sup>37', covering an area of 1,025 km<sup>2</sup>. Its area as a percentage of the total area of the province is 11.5%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 929 km<sup>2</sup> and 96 km<sup>2</sup>, respectively. Inland water bodies cover 9.4% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North, East and West by the sea and to the South by Kilinochchi district and Jaffna lagoon. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (51%), followed by Agriculture (25%) and Industry (24%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

Delimitation of Electorates in Jaffna District

225. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Jaffna District in the NP Provincial Council was 16. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Jaffna District had to be divided into electorates to elect 8 Provincial Councilors.

226. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 72,985 for the population of 583,882 residing in 435 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 15 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

- 227. The Committee received 12 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 6 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 6 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 28.11.2017.
- 228. Most proposals suggested delimitation of electorates based on DSs. The Committee could not consider some proposals, as populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017. The Committee accommodated the proposals, where possible, when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates, within agreed tolerance limits to minimise disproportion among electorates in population numbers, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 229. Three proposals suggested a separate electorate for the Muslim community. While recognising that this community had been reduced to an insignificant minority with forcible expulsion in the past, the Committee noted that currently, Muslims comprised less than 0.5% of the population in this district, inadequate to form an electorate.
- 230. One submission suggested including two GNs in a specific electorate. The Committee agreed that it was not possible to consider specific submissions relating to small subpopulations without a valid rationale.
- 231. One submission outside the mandate of the Committee required no action.
- 232. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. This was consistent with most proposals that provided electorate names.
- 233. In summary, Jaffna District was divided into 8 single member electorates, with 10 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 2 DSs each divided between 2 electorates and 3 DSs each divided among 3 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within 9.7% and +5.9% of the average population per electorate as follows:

234. Kilinochchi district is situated between the North latitudes 9<sup>0</sup>12' and 9<sup>0</sup>41' and between the East longitudes 79<sup>0</sup>57' and 80<sup>0</sup>36', covering an area of 1,279 km<sup>2</sup>. It was carved out of the southern part of Jaffna District in 1984. However, it is still a polling division of the Jaffna district. Its area as a percentage of the total area of the province is 14.4%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 1,205 km<sup>2</sup> and 74 km<sup>2</sup>, respectively. Inland water bodies cover 5.8% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Jaffna district, to the South by Mannar and Mullaitivu districts, to the East by Mullaitivu district and to the West by the sea. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 381 km<sup>2</sup> or 29.8% of the total area of the district. The elevation varies -2 m to 50 m from sea level.

235. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 113,510 and the population density was 94 pp km<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 97.7% in 2012. The capital of the district is Kilinochchi and its flying distance from Colombo is 280 km. The road kilometerage of Jaffna and Kilinochchi districts together was 1,608in 2016. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (48%), followed by Agriculture (27%) and Industry (25%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

236. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 6.2.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sri Lanka Tamil (97.3%), followed by Sinhalese (1.2%), Indian Tamil (0.9%) and Sri Lanka Moor (0.6%). With regard to religion, the majority of the population is Hindu (81.9%), followed by Roman Catholic (10.6%), Other Christian (5.7%), Buddhist (1.1%) and followers of Islam (0.6%).

Delimitation of Electorates in Kilinochchi District

237. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Kilinochchi District in the NP Provincial Council was 4. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Kilinochchi District had to be divided into electorates to elect 2 Provincial Councilors.

- 238. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 56,755 for the population of 113,510 residing in 95 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 4 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.
- 239. The Committee received 23 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 4 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 19 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the afternoon of 28.11.2017.
- 240. Most proposals suggested delimitation of electorates based on DSs. The Committee accommodated the proposals, where possible, when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates, within agreed tolerance limits to minimise disproportion among electorates in population numbers, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 241. Two submissions on behalf of Indian Tamils requested an electorate for them based on specified GNDs and equal status for Indian Tamils, respectively. The Committee noted that the population of Indian Tamils was less than 1% of the District population and therefore, inadequate to create an electorate.
- 242. One proposal suggested dividing the district into two electorates to East and West of the A9 road. The Committee considered this proposal and accommodated as possible.
- 243. Five submissions that presented no proposals, or were outside the mandate of the Committee, required no action.
- 244. Electorate names were consistent with names suggested in a majority of proposals.
- 245. In summary, Kilinochchi District was divided into 2 single member electorates, with 3 DSs remaining undivided within electorates and one DS divided between 2 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -7.6% and +7.6% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Mannar District

246. Mannar district is situated between the North latitudes 8<sup>0</sup>31' and 9<sup>0</sup>14' and between the East longitudes 79<sup>0</sup>41' and 80<sup>0</sup>23' covering an area of 1,996 km<sup>2</sup>. Inland water bodies cover 5.8% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Kilinochchi district, to the South by Anuradhapura and Puttalam districts, to the East by Mullaitivu and Vavuniya districts and to the West by the sea. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 1,261 km<sup>2</sup> or 63.2% of the total area of the district. Its elevation rises to about 90+ m, above sea level.

247. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 99,570 and the population density was 53 pp km<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 97.6% in 2012. The capital of the district is Mannar and its flying distance from Colombo is 226 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 540 in 2016. In the past, there had been a ferry service from Talaimannar of the Mannar district to Dhanushkody in India. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (52%), followed by Agriculture (32%) and Industry (16%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

248. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 6.3.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sri Lanka Tamil (80.4%) followed by Sri Lanka Moor (16.5%). With regard to religion, the majority of the population is Roman Catholic (52.6%), followed by Hindus (24.1%) and followers of Islam (16.6%).

Delimitation of Electorates in Mannar District

249. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Mannar District in the NP Provincial Council was 5. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Mannar District had to be divided into electorates to elect 3 Provincial Councilors.

- 250. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 33,190 for the population of 99,570 residing in 153 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 5 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.
- 251. The Committee received 39 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 18 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 21 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the afternoon of 29.11.2017.
- 252. Most proposals suggested delimitation of electorates based on DSs. One proposal was based on Local Authority Areas. The Committee could not consider many of these proposals, as populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. The Committee accommodated the proposals, where possible, when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates, within agreed tolerance limits to minimise disproportion in population numbers among electorates, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 253. Some submissions proposed an electorate for Musali DS. The Committee could not consider this proposal, as the population in Musali was 8,200, far lower than required to be consistent with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 254. Several submissions requested an electorate for a Muslim member, many of which gave no proposal, while a few suggestions varied from one Multimember seat to elect one Muslim member, to merging 2 DSs, to merging Muslim villages. The Committee noted that the largest minority community of interest (Muslims), comprising under 17% of the District population, were concentrated in non-contiguous 2 DSs, Mannar Town and Musali, and that all Muslims comprised 49.5% of the average population per electorate. They further noted that it was not possible to include most GNDs with Muslim majorities into one electorate without combining other GNDs with non-Muslim majorities to ensure contiguity in such an electorate, which would not achieve the proposed objective. Hence, the Committee agreed to concentrate the Muslim population in 2 electorates.
- 255. One submission, which was outside the mandate of the Committee, required no action.
- 256. While a few proposals named electorates, some by DS names and some by city names, as with other districts, electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate.
- 257. In summary, Mannar District was divided into 3 single member electorates, with 4 DSs remaining undivided within electorates and one DS divided between 2 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -7.8% and +8.0% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Its area as a percentage of the total area of the province is 22.1%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 1,861 km² and 106 km², respectively. Inland water bodies cover 5.4% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Mullaitivu district, to the South by Anuradhapura district, to the East by Mullaitivu and Anuradhapura districts and to the West by Mannar and Mullaitivu districts. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 1,228 km² or 62.4% of the total area of the district. The elevation varies from 20 m to 189 m above sea level.

259. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 172,115 and the population density was 92 pp km<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 97.1% in 2012. The capital of the district is Vavuniya and its flying distance from Colombo is 214 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 649 in 2016. Vavuniya is situated in the middle of the Vanni region and it is the gate to the NP from where people can access all the northern cities. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (49%), followed by Agriculture (32%) and Industry (19%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

260. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 6.4.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sri Lanka Tamil (82%), followed by Sinhalese (10%) and Sri Lanka Moor (6.8%). With regard to religion, the majority of the population is Hindu (69.4%), followed by Buddhists (9.8%), Roman Catholics (8.9%) and followers of Islam (7%).

Delimitation of Electorates in Vavuniya District

261. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Vavuniya District in the NP Provincial Council was 6. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Vavuniya District had to be divided into electorates to elect 3 Provincial Councilors.

- 262. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 57,372 for the population of 172,115 residing in 102GramaNiladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 4 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.
- 263. The Committee received 26 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 3 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 23 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the afternoon of 27.11.2017.
- 264. Many proposals suggested delimitation of electorates based on DSs. One proposal was based on DSs and Local Authority Areas. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. The Committee accommodated the proposals, where possible, when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates, within agreed tolerance limits to minimise disproportion in population numbers among electorates, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 265. Some submissions requested an electorate for the Sinhala population, most of which gave no proposal. The Committee noted that Sinhalese, the largest minority community of interest comprising 10% of the District population and 30% of the average population per electorate, which was inadequate to achieve the proposed objective. Hence, the Committee agreed to give them a strong presence in one electorate.
- 266. Some submissions requested an electorate for a Muslim member, some of which gave no proposal, while a few suggestions varied from combining GNDs to merging Muslim villages. The Committee noted that Muslims, the second largest minority community of interest, comprised 7% of the District population and 21% of the average population per electorate, which was inadequate to achieve the proposed objective. Hence, the Committee agreed to give them a strong presence in one electorate.
- 267. Six submissions, which were outside the mandate of the Committee, required no action.
- 268. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. This was consistent with some suggested names in proposals.
- 269. In summary, Vavuniya District was divided into 3 single member electorates, with 3 DSs remaining undivided within electorates and one DS divided among 3 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -6.1% and +6.5% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Mullaitivu District

270. Mullaitivu District was carved out of the Northern part of Vavuniya district, together with parts of the then Jaffna and Mannar districts in 1978. It is situated between the North latitudes 8°54' and 9°27' and between the East longitudes 80°10' and 80°57', covering an area of 2,617 km². Its area as a percentage of the total area of the province is 29.5%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 2,415 km² and 202 km², respectively. Inland water bodies cover 7.7% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Kilinochchi district, to the South by Mannar, Vavuniya and Trincomalee districts, to the East by the sea and to the West by Mannar and Kilinochchi districts. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 1,714 km² or 65.5% of the total area of the district. The elevation varies from 0 m to 86 m above sea level.

271. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 92,238 and the population density was 38 pp km<sup>2</sup>, the lowest among all districts in Sri Lanka. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 97.3% in 2012. The capital of the district is Mullaitivu and its flying distance from Colombo is 279 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 622 in 2016. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Agriculture (41%) and Services (40%), followed by Industry (19%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

272. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 6.5.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sri Lanka Tamil (85.8%), followed by Sinhalese (9.7%), Indian Tamil (2.5%) and Sri Lanka Moor (2.0%). With regard to religion, the majority of the population is Hindu (75.2%), followed by Roman Catholic (9.8%), Buddhist (8.9%), Other Christian (4.0%) and followers of Islam (2.0%).

Delimitation of Electorates in Mullaitivu District

273. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Mullaitivu District in the NP Provincial Council was 5. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Mullaitivu District had to be divided into electorates to elect 3 Provincial Councilors.

- 274. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 30,746 for the population of 92,238 residing in 136 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 6 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.
- 275. The Committee received 17 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 6 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 11 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 29.11.2017.
- 276. Most proposals suggested delimitation of electorates based on DSs The Committee could not consider some proposals, as populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A(4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, while some provided insufficient information. The Committee accommodated proposals, where possible, when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates, within agreed tolerance limits to minimise disproportion among electorates in population numbers, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 277. A few submissions proposed an electorate for Weli Oya DS. The Committee could not consider this proposal, as the population in Weli Oya was 6,904, far lower than required to be consistent with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, but recognised the need to concentrate the minority community of interest in one electorate.
- 278. One submission was a comment, requiring no action, of which the Committee took note.
- 279. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. This was consistent with names suggested in some proposals.
- 280. In summary, Mullaitivu District was divided into 3 single member electorates, with 3 DSs remaining undivided within electorates and 3 DSs each divided between 2 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -5.2% and +4.6% of the average population per electorate as follows:

CHAPTER 7

Eastern Province

281. The Eastern province (EP) is the second largest province in Sri Lanka. It has a total area of 9,996 km², which is distributed as 2,854 km² in Batticaloa district, 4,415 km² in Ampara district, and 2,727 km² in Trincomalee district. Its area as a percentage of the total area of the country is 15.2%. The extents of land and inland waters in the province are 9,361 km² and 635 km², respectively. Inland water bodies cover nearly 6.4% of the total area of the province. The province is bounded on the North by the Northern province, on the South by the Southern province, on the East by the sea, and on the West by the North Central, Central and Uva provinces. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 3,283km² or 32.8% of the total area of the province. The road kilometerage of the province was 2,251 in 2016. The provincial capital is Trincomalee.

282. The EP contributed 6% of Sri Lanka's total economic output in 2015, of which it contributed 5% to Services, 7% to Industry and 9% to Agriculture. Within the EP, economic output was mainly from Services (53%), followed by Industry (34%) and Agriculture (13%). In 2016, employment in the EP was mainly in Services (48%), followed by Agriculture (26%) and Industry (26%).

283. The following sections will focus on some demographic aspects of the EP, based on CPH 2012 data, and the administrative, local government and polling structures of the province and the respective districts.

Total Population, Population Density and Literacy

284. According to the CPH 2012, the total population of the EP was 1,555,510, which is equivalent to 7.6 % of the total population in the country. Out of the total population of the province, 33.9 % or 526,567 belonged to Batticaloa district, 41.7 % or 649,402 to Ampara district and 24.4% or 379,541 to Trincomalee district. The population density of the province was 166 ppkm². The literacy rate of the population aged 10 years and over was 91.9 %.

Population Distribution by Gender

285. The distribution of the male and female population in the province, its districts and Sri Lanka is given in Table 7.1. It can be seen from the table that the female population outnumbered the male population in all three districts as with other districts in Sri Lanka.

The district is bounded to the North by Trincomalee district, to the South by Ampara district, to the East by the Sea and to the West by Ampara and Polonnaruwa districts. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 505 km² or 17.7% of the total area of the district. The highest elevation of the district is 390+m above sea level.

292. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 526,567 and the population density was 202 ppkm<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 89.5% in 2012. The capital of the district is Batticaloa and its flying distance from Colombo is 222 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 623 in 2016. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (46%), followed by Industry (29%) and Agriculture (25%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

293. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 7.1.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sri Lanka Tamil (72.3%) and Hindu (64.4%) persons. The Sri Lanka Moor as well as Islamic population comprises around 25%.

Delimitation of Electorates in Batticaloa District

294. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Batticaloa District in the EP Provincial Council was 11. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Batticaloa District had to be divided into electorates to elect 6 Provincial Councilors.

295. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 87,761 for the population of 526,567 residing in 346 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 14 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

- 296. The Committee received 61 proposals in 58 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 31 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 27 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the afternoon of 10.11.2017.
- 297. Most proposals suggested complete and incomplete delimitation of electorates, based on DSs, old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions) and Local Authority Areas. Some included multi member electorates for Batticaloa and Kalkudah. The Committee could not consider many of these proposals, as populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. However, wherever possible, the Committee accommodated the proposals made when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates.
- 298. Two proposals suggested creating multimember electorates based on Local Authority Areas. The Committee took note of these proposals, recognising the need to ensure balanced representation of communities of interest.
- 299. Several proposals suggested delimitation of electorates to safeguard the rights of Muslims and Tamils. The Committee noted that Tamils and Moors comprised 73% and 25%, respectively, of the entire District population and accommodated these suggestions as best possible, while safeguarding balanced representation of communities of interest.
- 300. Some general submissions suggested that creation of electorates should create an opportunity to unite people; should be created on geographically and economically connected basis; should be based on DSs, population and area, not on race, religion etc., and make all three communities live together. The Committee took note of these views when delimiting electorates.
- 301. Two submissions required no action, as one contained no proposal and the other was outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 302. While several proposals named electorates, some by DS names and some by city names, as with other districts, electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate.
- 303. In summary, Batticaloa District was divided into 6 single member electorates, with 11 DSs remaining undivided within electorates and 3 DSs each divided between 2 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -6.2% and +9.8% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Ampara District

304. Ampara district is situated between the North latitudes6<sup>0</sup>30' and 7<sup>0</sup>44' and between the East longitudes 80<sup>0</sup>58' and 81<sup>0</sup>52', covering an area of 4,415 km<sup>2</sup>. Its area as a percentage of the total area of the province is 44.2%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 4,222 km<sup>2</sup> and 193 km<sup>2</sup>, respectively. Its inland water bodies cover only 4.4 % of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Batticaloa and Polonnaruwa districts, to the South by Hambantota district, to the East by the sea and to the West by Moneragala, Badulla and Matale districts. Ampara was created as a separate district in 1961 by carving out the southern part of the Batticaloa district. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 1,511 km<sup>2</sup> or 34.2% of the total area of the district. The highest elevation of the district is 860+m above sea level.

305. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 649,402 and the population density was 154 pp km<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 92.8% in 2012. The capital of the district is Ampara and its flying distance from Colombo is 205 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 967 in 2016. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (47%), followed by Agriculture (28%) and Industry (25%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

306. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 7.2.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sri Lanka Moor and followers of Islam (43.4%). The percentages of Sinhalese and Buddhist population are 38.9% and 38.8%, respectively, and the percentages of Sri Lanka Tamil and Hindu population are 17.3% and 15.8%, respectively.

Delimitation of Electorates in Ampara District

307. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Ampara District in the EP Provincial Council was 14. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Ampara District had to be divided into electorates to elect 7 Provincial Councilors.

- 308. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 92,772 for the population of 649,402 residing in 503 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 20 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.
- 309. The Committee received 67 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 34 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 33 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 11.11.2017.
- 310. Most proposals suggested complete and incomplete delimitation of electorates, based on DSs, old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions) and Local Authority Areas. Several included multi member electorates for Ampara, Akkaraipattu and Kalmunai areas. The Committee could not consider many of these proposals, as populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, while some suggested electorates were non-contiguous. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. The Committee also noted that Moors, Sinhalese and Tamils comprised 43%, 39% and 17%, respectively, of the entire District population and that it was possible to safeguard representation of communities of interest, without resorting to multimember electorates, which may not have achieved the required objective of elected members representing different communities in that multimember electorate. Hence, the Committee concentrated each community of interest in specific electorates to safeguard their interests in consideration of Section 3A (4) (a) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 311. One proposal suggested creating 2 multimember electorates without specifying which areas. The Committee took note of this proposal, recognising the need to ensure balanced representation of communities of interest.
- 312. Fifteen submissions required no action, as one contained no proposal and the others were outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 313. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. This was partly consistent with the one proposal received that had named electorates.
- 314. In summary, Ampara District was divided into 7 single member electorates, with 17 DSs remaining undivided within electorates and 3 DSs each divided between 2 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -7.0% and +8.4% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Inland water bodies cover nearly 7.3% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Mullaitivu district, to the South by Batticaloa and Polonnaruwa districts, to the East by the sea and to the West by Anuradhapura district. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 1,267 km<sup>2</sup> or 46.5% of the total area of the district. Its highest elevation is around 244+m above sea level. Trincomalee is renowned for its natural deep-water harbor, which has been a seaport for maritime and international trading from ancient times. It was referred to as Gokanna in Pali or Gokarna in Sanskrit.

316. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 379,541 and the population density was 150 ppkm<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of persons aged 10 years and over was 93.5% in 2012. The capital of the district is Trincomalee and its flying distance from Colombo is 237 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 661 in 2016. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (52%), followed by Agriculture (25%) and Industry (23%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

317. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 7.3.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sri Lanka Moors (41.8%) and followers of Islam (42.0%). The percentages of Sinhalese and Buddhist population are 26.7% and 26.2%, respectively. The Tamil population (both Sri Lanka Tamil and Indian Tamil) is 31% and the Hindu population is 25.9%.

Delimitation of Electorates in Trincomalee District

318. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Trincomalee District in the EP Provincial Council was 10. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Trincomalee District had to be divided into electorates to elect 5 Provincial Councilors.

- 319. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 75,908 for the population of 379,541 residing in 230 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 11 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.
- 320. The Committee received 59 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 25 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 34 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the afternoon of 09.11.2017.
- 321. Most proposals suggested complete and incomplete delimitation of electorates, based on DSs, old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions) and Local Authority Areas. Several included multi member electorates for Mutur and Trincomalee town areas. The Committee could not consider many of these proposals, as populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, while some provided insufficient information. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. The Committee noted that Moors, Tamils and Sinhalese comprised 42%, 31% and 27%, respectively, of the entire District population and that it was possible to safeguard representation of communities of interest, without resorting to multimember electorates, which may not have achieved the required objective of elected members representing different communities in that multimember electorate. Hence, the Committee concentrated each community of interest in specific electorates to safeguard their interests in consideration of Section 3A (4) (a) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 322. Two proposals specifically suggested creating 2 multimember electorates in Trincomalee and Mutur. The Committee took note of these proposals, recognising the need to ensure balanced representation of communities of interest.
- 323. Twenty three submissions outside the mandate of the Committee required no action.
- 324. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. This was consistent with suggested names in some proposals.
- 325. In summary, Trincomalee District was divided into 5 single member electorates, with 6 DSs remaining undivided within electorates and 5 DSs each divided between 2 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -5.9% and +6.3% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Delimitation of Electorates in Kurunegala District

339. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Kurunegala District in the NWP Provincial Council was 34. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Kurunegala District had to be divided into electorates to elect 17 Provincial Councilors.

340. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 95,204 for the population of 1,618,465 residing in 1,610 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 30 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

- 341. The Committee received 17 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 5 in response to the public call for written proposals and 12 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 20.11.2017.
- 342. A few proposals suggested delimitation of electorates based on Local Authority Areas, one of which specified all 17 electorates, another only 6 electorates and one was non-specific about electorates. Other proposals specified electorates based on old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions), including a multi member seat for Polgahawela. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs as a basis for delimitation of electorates, but also recognised the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. It accommodated these six proposals when demarcating electorates, where possible, within agreed tolerance limits to minimise disproportion among electorates in population numbers, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 343. Several proposals suggested delimitation of electorates based on DSs and GNDs, of which some merely suggested demarcating electorates based on population and area, which was consistent with the Principal Act. One proposal specified 15 electorates, including 2 multimember electorates, while others suggested equal numbers of GNDs for each electorate. The Committee could not consider these latter proposals, as populations across electorates were disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 344. Two proposals suggested that one electorate, Kuliyapitiya East, include a 30% Muslim community of interest. These proposals were accommodated to the maximum possible when creating Kuliyapitiya East Electorate.
- 345. Three submissions required no action, as they suggested increasing or decreasing the number of Provincial Councilors, which was outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 346. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. The names were consistent with one of the proposals received with named electorates.
- 347. In summary, Kurunegala District was divided into 17 single member electorates, with 17 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 11 DSs each divided between 2 electorates and 2 DSs divided among 3 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within 5.6% and +6.8% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Puttalam District

348. Puttalam district is situated between the North latitudes 7<sup>0</sup>16' and 8<sup>0</sup>34' and between the East longitudes 79<sup>0</sup>41' and 80<sup>0</sup>9', covering an area of 3,072 km<sup>2</sup>. The area of the district as a percentage of the total area of the province is 38.9%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 2,882 km<sup>2</sup> and 190 km<sup>2</sup>, respectively. The inland water bodies cover 6.2% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Mannar district, to the South by Gampaha district, to the East by Anuradhapura and Kurunegala districts and to the West by the sea. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 842 km<sup>2</sup> or 27.4% of the total area of the district. Its highest elevation is around 250+ m above sea level.

349. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 762,396 and the population density was 265 ppkm2. The literacy rate of the population aged 10 years and over was 95.8%. The capital of the district is Puttalam and its flying distance from Colombo is 122 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 1,525 in 2016. "ParuEla", the canal constructed during the Dutch period, to ferry traded goods from Colombo to Puttalam and vice versa, is situated within the district. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (47%), followed by Industry (28%) and Agriculture (25%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

350. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 8.2.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population is comprised of Sinhalese (73.6%), followed by Sri Lanka Moors (19.3%). With regard to religion, the majority is Buddhist (43.3%), followed by Roman Catholics (31.5%) and followers of Islam (19.7%).

Table 8.2.1: Population Distribution by Ethnicity and Religion – Puttalam District

Delimitation of Electorates in Puttalam District

351. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Puttalam District in the NWP Provincial Council was 16. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Puttalam District had to be divided into electorates to elect 8 Provincial Councilors.

352. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 95,300 for the population of 762,396 residing in 548 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 16 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

- 353. The Committee received 38 proposals from 35 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 23submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 12 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the afternoon of 20.11.2017.
- 354. The majority of submissions received were identical proposals from the Muslim community suggesting delimitation of 7 electorates with names assigned to each electorate, including a multimember electorate for Kalpitiya. The Committee noted that another submission was against a multimember electorate in Kalpitiya. The Committee further noted that the Muslims comprised 19.7% of the entire District population, mainly concentrated in 2 DSs, and that it was possible to safeguard representation of that community of interest, without resorting to multimember electorates, which may not have achieved the required objective of elected members representing different communities in that multimember electorate. Hence, the Committee concentrated this community of interest in those specific electorates to safeguard their interests in consideration of Sections 3A (4) (a) and (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 355. Several proposals suggested complete and incomplete delimitation of electorates, of which most proposals were based on DSs, one was based on Local Authority areas, one was part-based on old Parliamentary Electorates (current Polling Divisions) and one specified 3 GNDs to be included in specific electorates. Among these, a few suggested multimember electorates. The Committee could not consider most of these proposals, as populations were significantly disproportionate among electorates and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017. However, wherever possible, the broad groupings suggested were considered when demarcating electorates.
- 356. Three proposals made broad suggestions, one to keep GNDs intact, one against a multimember electorate for Kalpitiya and one to combine 2 DSs per electorate. The suggestions made were considered, where relevant.
- 357. Three submissions required no action, as they contained no proposals or proposals which were outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 358. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs. The names were consistent with many proposals received with named electorates.
- 359. In summary, Puttalam District was divided into 8 single member electorates, with 11 DSs remaining undivided within electorates and 5 DSs each divided between 2 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -6.8% and +4.8% of the average population per electorate as follows:

The North Central province (NCP) is the largest province of Sri Lanka and has a total area of 10,472 km², which is distributed as 7,179 km² in Anuradhapura district and 3,293 km² in Polonnaruwa district. Its area as a percentage of the total area of the country is 16%. The extents of land and inland waters in the province are 9,741km² and 731km², respectively. Inland water bodies cover nearly 7% of the total area of the province. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 3,932 km² or about 37.5% of the total area of the province. The province is bounded on the North by the Northern province, on the South by the Central and Eastern provinces, on the East by the Eastern province and on the West by the North Western and Northern provinces. #### Delimitation of Electorates in Anuradhapura District

373. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Anuradhapura District in the NCP Provincial Council was 21. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Anuradhapura District had to be divided into electorates to elect 11 Provincial Councilors.

- 374. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 78,234 for the population of 860,575 residing in 694 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 22 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.
- 375. The Committee received 14 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 9 in response to the public call for written proposals and 5 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 09.11.2017.
- 376. Some proposals suggested combining DSs or parts of DSs into electorates, of which some covered all 11 electorates and others were incomplete. The Committee considered these proposals when demarcating electorates, but within agreed tolerance limits to minimise disproportion in populations among electorates, in consideration of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 377. Some proposals suggested multi member electorates to ensure representation of communities of interest. Other proposals also suggested creating one electorate to provide for Muslim representation. The Committee noted that the largest minority community of interest (Muslims) comprised around 8% of the District population. The Committee also noted that although Muslims comprised about 90% of the average population per electorate, it was not possible to combine Muslims into one electorate, as they were scattered among 17 of 22 DSs. Owing to this dispersion, the Committee also recognised that the objective of achieving a minority representative as one of the councilors in a multi member electorate was unlikely to be achieved. In response to these 8 proposals, the Muslim population was concentrated in 2 electorates, as best possible, to obtain a significant representation of over 22% in each.
- 378. One proposal suggested using Local Authority Areas as the basis for demarcating electorates, while another suggested using DSs. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of Local Authority Wards for practical purposes.
- 379. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. The names were consistent with one proposal received with named electorates.
- 380. In summary, Anuradhapura District was divided into 11 single member electorates, with 12 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 9 DSs each divided between 2 electorates and one DS divided among 3 electorates. The population in each electorate remained within -7.2% and +5.2% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Polonnaruwa District

381. Polonnaruwa district is situated between the North latitudes 7<sup>0</sup>38 and 8<sup>0</sup>21 and between the East longitudes 80<sup>0</sup>45 and 81<sup>0</sup>20, covering an area of 3,293 km<sup>2</sup>. Its area as a percentage of the total area of the province is 31.4%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 3,077 km<sup>2</sup> and 216 km<sup>2</sup>, respectively. Inland water bodies cover 6.6% of the total area of the district. The district is bounded to the North by Trincomalee district, to the South by Ampara and Matale districts, to the East by Batticaloa district and to the West by Anuradhapura and Matale districts. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 1,348 km<sup>2</sup> or 40.9% of total the area of the district. Its elevation varies from 9 m to 600+ m above sea level.

382. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 406,088 and the population density was 132 ppkm<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of the population aged 10 years and over was 94.8%. Polonnaruwa is the capital of the district and its flying distance from Colombo is169 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 882 in 2016. Polonnaruwa is the second most important ancient kingdom of Sri Lanka, dating from the 11th Century AD. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Agriculture (39%), followed by Services (36%) and Industry (25%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

383. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 9.2.1. It can be seen from the table that the Sinhala as well as the Buddhist population comprise around 90% of the total population of the district, while the Sri Lanka Moors as well as the Islamic population comprise around 7%.

Delimitation of Electorates in Polonnaruwa District

384. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Polonnaruwa District in the NCP Provincial Council was 10. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Polonnaruwa District had to be divided into electorates to elect 5 Provincial Councilors.

385. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 81,218 for the population of 406,088 residing in 295 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 7 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

- 386. The Committee received 6 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 3 in response to the public call for written proposals and 3 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 10.11.2017.
- 387. A few proposals suggested combining DSs or parts of DSs into 5 electorates, where the populations across electorates were significantly disproportionate. The Committee considered these proposals when demarcating electorates, but within agreed tolerance limits to minimise disproportion in populations among electorates, in consideration of Section 3A(4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 388. One proposal suggested a multi member electorate to ensure representation of a minority community of interest. The Committee noted that all minorities comprised less than 10% of the entire District population, below 30% of the population required for a multimember electorate. Hence, the Committee recognised that the objective of achieving a minority representative as one of the councilors in a multi member electorate was unlikely to be achieved as the minority community of interest was too small, and instead, concentrated that community of interest in specific electorates to safeguard their interests in consideration of Section 3A(4) (a) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017.
- 389. A few proposals suggested creating one electorate to include the majority of Muslims in the district. The Committee noted that the largest minority community of interest (Muslims), comprising 7.5% of the District population, were concentrated in 3 DSs, Thamankaduwa, Welikanda and Lankapura, and that all Muslims comprised about 38% of the average population per electorate. They further noted that it was not possible to include most GNDs with Muslim majorities into one electorate without combining other GNDs with non-Muslim majorities to ensure contiguity in such an electorate and be within agreed tolerance limits to minimise disproportion in populations among electorates, in consideration of Section 3A(4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017. Hence, the Committee agreed to concentrate the majority of the Muslim population in 2 electorates, as best possible, to safeguard their interests.
- 390. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs.
- 391. In summary, Polonnaruwa District was divided into 5 single member electorates, with 5 DSs remaining undivided within electorates and 2 DSs each divided between 2 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -1.9% and +1.6% of the average population per electorate of as follows:

- 408. Some proposals suggested complete and incomplete delimitation of electorates, based on old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions) and Local Authority Areas, while one suggested a multi member electorate for Welimada. The Committee could not consider these proposals, as in some proposals, populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A(4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, while other proposals were incomplete or had insufficient information to be considered. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. However, wherever possible, the Committee accommodated the proposals made when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates.
- 409. Several proposals suggested delimitation of electorates to ensure representation of a minority community of interest (Tamils), varying from 2-3 electorates/members, while some did not specify any number. A few proposals specified geographical areas for these electorates. The Committee noted that the Tamils comprised 172,264 (21%) of the entire District population scattered across several DSs, and accommodated this suggestion by concentrating this community of interest in specific electorates, as best possible, while safeguarding balanced representation of all communities of interest.
- 410. One submission suggested delimiting electorates based on ethnicity, population and area. The Committee noted that this was consistent with the Principal Act and the Amendment Act 2017.
- 411. Three submissions required no action, as they contained no proposals or proposals to change the number of electorates, which was outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 412. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. This was consistent with one proposal received which named electorates.
- 413. In summary, Badulla District was divided into 9 single member electorates, with 3 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 8 DSs each divided between 2 electorates and 4 DSs each divided among 3 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within 8.5% and +8.0% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Delimitation of Electorates in Moneragala District

417. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Moneragala District in the UP Provincial Council was 14. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Moneragala District had to be divided into electorates to elect 7 Provincial Councilors.

- 418. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 64,437 for the population of 451,058 residing in 319 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 11 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.
- 419. The Committee received 19 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 6 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 13 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 24.11.2017.
- 420. Several submissions suggested complete and incomplete delimitation of electorates, which were based on DSs and Parts of DSs, on Polling Divisions and on Local Authority Areas. The Committee noted that in some proposals, populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, while other proposals were incomplete or had insufficient information to be considered. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or Polling Divisions, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. However, wherever possible, the Committee accommodated the proposals made when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates.
- 421. One submission suggested delimiting electorates based on ethnicity and area. The Committee noted that this was consistent with the Principal Act and the Amendment Act 2017.
- 422. six submissions required no action, as they contained no proposals.
- 423. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. This was consistent with proposals received which named electorates.
- 424. In summary, Moneragala District was divided into 7 single member electorates, with 5 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 5 DSs each divided between 2 electorates and one DS divided among 3 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -4.2% and +6.1% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Sabaragamuwa Province

425. Sabaragamuwa Province (SBP) has a total area of 4,968 km², which is distributed as 3,275 km² in Ratnapura district and 1,693 km² in Kegalle district. Its area as a percentage of the total area of the country is 7.6%. The extents of land and inland waters in the province are 4,921 and 47 km²,respectively.Inland water bodies cover only 0.9% of the total area of the province. The province is bounded on the North by the North Western and Central provinces, on the South by the Southern province, on the East by the Central and Uva provinces and on the West by the Western province. The capital of the province is Ratnapura and it is a major crossroad between the southern plains and hill country of Sri Lanka. The road kilometerage of the province was 4,011 km in 2016.

426. The SBP contributed 7% of Sri Lanka's total economic output in 2015, of which it contributed 7% to Services, 6% to Industry and 8% to Agriculture. Within the SBP, economic output was mainly from Services (64%), followed by Industry (26%) and Agriculture (10%). In 2016, employment in the SBP was mainly in Services (38%), followed by Agriculture (31%) and Industry (31%).

427. The following sections will focus on some demographic aspects of SBP, based on CPH2012 data, and the administrative, local government and polling structures of the province and the respective districts.

Total Population, Population Density and Literacy

428. According to the CPH2012, 9.5 % (or 1,928,655) of the Sri Lankan population lives in SBP. Out of the total population of the province, 56.4% or1,088,007 belong to Ratnapura district and 43.6% (840,648) to Kegalle district. The population density of the province was 392 ppkm<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of the population aged 10 years and over was 94.8% in 2012.

Delimitation of Electorates in Ratnapura District

438. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Ratnapura District in the SBP Provincial Council was 24. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Ratnapura District had to be divided into electorates to elect 12 Provincial Councilors.

439. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 90,667 for the population of 1,088,007 residing in 575 Grama Niladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 17 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

- 440. The Committee received 20 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 6 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 14 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the afternoon of 15.11.2017.
- 441. Several complete and incomplete proposals suggested delimitation of electorates, based on DSs and Local Authority Areas, including one proposal for a multi member electorate for the Balangoda area. One other suggested dividing old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions) into 2-3 electorates, without dividing Local Authority electorates. The Committee could not consider most of these proposals, as populations between electorates were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, while other proposals had insufficient information to be considered. Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than Local Authority Areas or old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. However, wherever possible, the Committee accommodated the proposals made when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates.
- 442. A few submissions suggested delimitation of electorates to ensure representation of a minority community of interest (Tamils), some of which specified geographical areas. The Committee noted that the Tamils comprised 116,561 (11%) of the District population, scattered across several DSs, and accommodated this suggestion by concentrating this community of interest in specific electorates, as best possible, while safeguarding balanced representation of all communities of interest.
- 443. One general proposal suggested delimiting electorates based on ethnicity, population and area. The Committee noted that this was consistent with the Principal Act and Amendment Act 2017.
- 444. Eight submissions required no action, as they contained no proposals or proposals, which were outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 445. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. This was consistent with several electorate names in proposals received.
- 446. In summary, Ratnapura District was divided into 12 single member electorates, with 6 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 9 DSs each divided between 2 electorates and 2 DSs each divided among 3 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -6.4% and +7.1% of the average population per electorate as follows:

Kegalle District

447. Kegalle district lies between the North latitudes of 6<sup>0</sup> 50' and 7<sup>0</sup> 23' and between the East longitudes of 80<sup>0</sup>9'' and 81<sup>0</sup> 32', covering an area of 1,693km<sup>2</sup>. Its area as a percentage of the total area of the province is 34%. The extents of land and inland waters amount to 1,685 and 8 km<sup>2</sup>, respectively. It is bounded on the North by Kurunegala district, on the South by Ratnapura district, on the East by Kandy and Nuwara Eliya districts and on the West by Gampaha and Colombo districts. The estimated forest cover as at 2010 was about 154 km<sup>2</sup>or 9.1% of the total area of the district. Its elevation varies from 10m to 1,930m above sea level.

448. According to the CPH 2012, the total population was 840,648 and the population density was 499ppkm<sup>2</sup>. The literacy rate of the population aged 10 years and over was 96.0%. The capital of the district is Kegalle and its flying distance from Colombo is 65 km. The road kilometerage of the district was 1,781 in 2016. In 2016, employment in the district was mainly in Services (42%), followed by Industry (35%) and Agriculture (23%).

Distribution of Population by Ethnicity and Religion

449. The distribution of population by ethnicity and religion is given in Table 11.2.1. It can be seen from the table that the majority of the population consists of Sinhalese (85.5%) and Buddhists (84.5%), followed by Tamils (both Sri Lanka Tamil and Indian Tamil) (7.3%) and Hindus (6.5%). Sri Lanka Moor population and followers of Islam are just over 7%.

Delimitation of Electorates in Kegalle District

450. Under Section 3 (3) of the Principal Act, the number of Provincial Councilors determined by the Election Commissioner for the Kegalle District in the UP Provincial Council was 18. Under Section 3A (2) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, Kegalle District had to be divided into electorates to elect 9 Provincial Councilors.

451. The average population per single-member electorate was determined as 93,405 for the population of 840,648 residing in 573GramaNiladhari Divisions (GNDs) within 11 Divisional Secretariats (DSs) in the District.

- 452. The Committee received 25 submissions in respect of the District, namely, 15 submissions in response to the public call for written proposals and 10 at the public hearing held in the District Secretariat during the morning of 15.11.2017.
- 453. Some proposals suggested complete and incomplete delimitation of electorates based on old Parliamentary electorates (current Polling Divisions). Noting that all demographic information is only available by administrative units, namely, GNDs and DSs, the Committee used DSs, rather than old Parliamentary electorates, as the basis for delimitation of electorates, while also recognising the need to minimise division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes. However, wherever possible, the Committee accommodated the proposals made when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates.
- 454. One proposal suggested creating 4 electorates from 4 DSs. The Committee could not consider this proposal, as populations in some of these DSs were significantly disproportionate and not in keeping with the spirit of Section 3A (4) (b) of the Principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act 2017, but accommodated the suggestion as best possible when combining DSs for demarcation of electorates.
- 455. Several proposals suggested delimitation of electorates to ensure representation of Muslims, a minority community of interest. Many of these requested an electorate for Muslim representation in Mawanella. A few proposals suggested a multi member electorate in this area. The Committee noted that the Muslims comprised 61,164 (7.3%) of the entire District population in several DSs, of which 42,873 were in Mawanella and 3 contiguous DSs, less than 30% of the population required for a multimember electorate. Hence, the Committee recognised that the objective of achieving a minority representative as one of the councilors in a multi member electorate was unlikely to be achieved as the community of interest was too small, and instead, concentrated the Muslim community of interest in one electorate to accommodate these proposals as best possible, while safeguarding balanced representation of all communities of interest.
- 456. Some proposals suggested delimitation of electorates to ensure representation of upcountry Tamils, a minority community of interest, in Deraniyagala and Yatiyantota DS areas. The Committee noted that Tamils comprised 61,609 (7.3%) of the entire District population in several DSs, mainly concentrated in 3 DSs. Hence, the Committee concentrated the Tamil community of interest in one electorate, as best possible, to accommodate these proposals, while safeguarding balanced representation of all communities of interest.
- 457. One general submission suggested delimiting electorates to make representation of Tamils and Muslims. As specified in the previous two paragraphs, the Committee accommodated this proposal as best possible.
- 458. Four submissions required no action, as they contained no proposals or proposals that were outside the mandate of the Committee.
- 459. Electorate names were taken from the predominant DSs in each electorate, in terms of population and number of GNDs, unless there was a historically significant name that could be used for the electorate. There were no names suggested for electorates in the submissions.

460. In summary, Kegalle District was divided into 9 single member electorates, with 3 DSs remaining undivided within electorates, 4 DSs each divided between 2 electorates,3 DSs each divided among 3 electorates and one DS divided among 4 electorates, while the population in each electorate remained within -6.6% and +5.3% of the average population per electorate as follows

Part IV

Future Considerations & Acknowledgements

CHAPTER 13

Issues for Future Consideration

464. In response to its call for submissions and proposals from interested Political Parties, Public Organisations and the General Public with respect to delimitation of electorates within districts for Provincial Council Elections, the Committee received 678 responses(both written and verbal) for consideration, in the discharge of its mandate. Many proposals were within the mandate of the Committee and were considered by the Committee in the process of delimitation. Others were not within the mandate given to the Committee. Some proposals, even though outside the specific mandate of the Committee, merited further consideration in the national interest. Hence, this Chapter provides a summary of the issues raised in the submissions made by the public, together with the Committee's collective thoughts on the same, which, it is hoped, will serve Sri Lanka in the future.

Key Issues Raised in the Submissions

465. Smaller Single Member Electorates for Area Specific Minority Communities:

Representatives of the National and provincial minority communities, namely, Tamils in other than Northern province, Muslims in other than Ampara district, as well as Sinhalese living in the Northern and Eastern provinces, requested to ensure their representation in each Provincial Council in order to accommodate their concerns in the Provincial Council system. They requested to accommodate thembyconcentrating their population within a specific geographical area as best possible and creating electorates for them, in order to ensure their political representation in the provinces wherever they were significantly concentrated.

466. Reduce Population Size and RaiseTolerance Rate to Demarcate Smaller Minority Electorates:

Moors and Indian Origin (Malaiyaga) Tamils living outside the Northern and Eastern provinces, as well as Sinhalese and Indian Origin (Malaiyaga) Tamils living in the Northern Province had submitted many proposals requesting creation of smaller electorates by considering the smaller population size and ethnic concentration in those specific geographical areas. They suggested to raise the tolerance rate to createprovincial council electorates with a smaller population within the district (i.e high deviation from the average population per electorate) toaccommodate provincial minority communities.

467. Create Multimember Electorates for Multi-communities:

Many proposals were submitted by four ethnic groups[Sinhalese, Sri Lankan Tamils, Moors, and Indian Origin (Malaiyaga) Tamils where minority communities as well as majority communities of the province requested create multi-member electorates with a higher tolerance rate (i.e high deviation from average population per electorate) in the district where the multi-communities live together in a particular region or area in order to ensure political representation of all such communities of interest.

468. Creation of Electorates based on ParliamentaryElectorates and Local Authority Areas: Some proposals submitted by different communities suggested to create provincial council electorates based on oldParliamentary electorates(current Polling Divisions) as well as Local Authority Areas. They pointed out that using the existing structure of electorates would be helpful to easily identify all levels of electoral representation of the citizens without further complications, while also recognizing the need to minimize division of other electoral boundaries for practical purposes.

469.DelimitElectorates based on District Level Ethnic Ratios and Population Distribution: Submissions were made to delimit electorates based on district ethnic ratiosto ensure their shares of representationinthe Provincial Council from all districts.

470. Increase the Numbers of Provincial Council Members and Electorates:

Many proposals were submitted to the Committee to increase the number of membersto be elected to the provincial councils and increase the number of the electorates based on increased numbers of members from each district. This will help to create smaller electorates and, in turn, it will help to ensure the representation of minorities.

471. Sunset Arrangements for Displaced Communities of the Northern Province:

Suggestions were made by the displaced communities from Mannar District and the Muslim Community to provide sunset arrangements based on the population size of the districts in which they lived before displacement, in order to safeguard their political representation to the Northern Provincial Council.

472. Create Electorates Based on Geographical and Economic Considerations:

Some proposals submitted, especially from the southern part of the country, requested to create electorates based on geographical factors, economic disparities and development priorities of each district and province.

473. Special Arrangements to Provide Representation for Scattered Provincial Minorities:

Some proposals suggested to make necessary arrangements at provincial level for dispersed minorities, who were in a significant number in districts and at provincial level but were scattered across those areas without concentration. As a result, they would lose their representationthrough electorates in a particular province. They also suggested that the existing 2 bonus seats for each province could be allocated to electorally non-represented minorities at provincial level, especially for Indian Origin (Malaiyaga) Tamils and Muslims living in the Western, Central, Southern, North Western, North Central, Uva and Sabaragamuwa Provinces, Sinhalese living in the Northern and Eastern Provinces and Malays living in Hambantota district.

474. No Guarantee of Securing Representation of Non-elected Minorities through Proportional Representation (PR) List System:

Several minority groups dispersed at provincial levelexpressed their view that there is a perception that the new electoral system will enable even a minority community that is not concentrated in one electorate but is scattered all over the district to elect their representative to an electorate, and as such, the unfounded fear in the minds of minority communities is that they would be deprived of their right to have their representative/s through the PR list system in situations where they could not elect a representative through the electorates.

475. Names of Electorates:

Submissions from all districts suggested, in general, that the name of the predominant Divisional Secretariat in terms of population and number of GNDs of the proposed provincial electorates could be used as the electorate name, unless there was a historically and geographically significant name of the area that could be used for the electorate

476. Using Population Data from the Census of Population and Housing 2012 in determining the Population Size to Demarcate Electorates is Not-justifiable:

There were representations that taking the last Census 2012 as a base to decide the population size for a provincial electorate in a particular district is not justifiable in this delimitation process. They argued that due to the insecurity which prevailed in the North and the East, people who had vacated their traditional dwellings had not totally returned to their dwellings as at 2012 and therefore, the Census 2012 does not provide accurate information of population in these areas. Therefore, their opinion was that the estimated population numbers for 2016 should be taken for this purpose in determining the population size of an electorate in a particular district.

The Committee's Observations and Suggestions

477. The Committee emphasises that steps need to be taken to secure the representation of minor communities of interest concentrated in a Province and suggests that a mechanism be put in place to ensure this through the effective use of electorates, proportional representation lists andbonus seats.

478. If multi-member electorates are created as safety measures to provide for the representation of minority communities of interest, asafety mechanismwould need to be incorporated to ensure that the second member is from a different community to the community represented by the first winning member (this is not practiced in the new local government elections).

479. The Committee recommends that a mechanism be included in the Proportional Representation List system at district level to secure representation for minority communities of interest that were entitled to a member according to their percentage share in a district, but were unable to elect their representative from an electorate under the simple majority system.

480. A change to the law could be considered, by which the Commissioner of Elections is empowered to notify the party or group making nominations for bonus seats that the relevant nomination should be done in a manner which compensates for the potential absence of minority representation in the Provincial Council through both electorates and Proportional Representation and is commensurate with the population share of such minority community within the Province at the election held.

- 481. Mechanisms for affirmative measures, such as those suggested above, may need to adopted forminority communities of interest which are excluded from representation through the new electoral system for Provincial Councils.
- 482. The Delimitation Committee is bound to its mandate to demarcate electorates based on the number of Provincial Council Members for a district as determined under the existing lawand on the population numbers taken from the last Census 2012. Hence, submissions to consider the latest estimated national population statistics and to increase the number of membersin each provincial council, which were outside its mandate, could not be considered by the Committee. Furthermore, it should be noted that accurate detailed population statistics that are required for delimitation of electoral boundaries are only available from a national Census, which is conducted every 10 years. Population numbers calculated in inter-censal years are only estimates and cannot be used for this exercise. The Committee noted that those who made submissions on this issue were unaware of such facts. The Committee recommends that public awareness be raised on such issues in the future. Meanwhile, the issue of the number of Provincial Council members could be considered for future Provincial Council Electionsat discussions to be held at Parliamentary level.
- 483. Sunset arrangements suggested by the Muslim community for the displaced communities from Mannar District and the Muslim Community elsewhere, to safeguard their political representations to Northern Provincial Council, were not addressed by the Committee as it remained outside the mandate of the Committee. The Committee recommends that this matter be taken up at policy level.
- 484. The Committee recommends that asuitable mechanism be put in place to ensure political representation the Provincial Councils for electorally non-represented provincial ethnic and religious minority communities, namely, Indian Origin (Malaiyaga) Tamils in the Southern (Matara and Galle districts), North Western (Puttalam district), Western (Gampaha and Kalutara districts), Sabaragamuwa (Ratnapura and Kegalle districts), Central (Kandy and Matale districts) and Northern (Vavuniya, Killinochchi and Mullaitivu districts) provinces; Muslims in the Southern (Galle and Hambantota districts), North Central (Kurunegala District), Central (Matale District) and Western (Gampaha District) provinces and Sinhalese in the Northern (Mullaitivu and Vavuniya districts) and Eastern (Batticaloa district) provinces.
- 485. The Committee noted that often, individuals and institutions that made submissions at the public hearings did not know the demographic facts relating to their own geographical areas. As such, their submissions were based on erroneous assumptions and perceptions. The Committee recommends that, as a national policy, public awareness programmes be arranged through print and electronic media to address this unfortunate issue.
